On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SEYLER. Mr. Speaker, I rise not to debate the bill but to call the attention of the Members to the fact that this is the third class cities code, and each Member has received a copy of the objections filed by the City of York. The City of York has been joined by other cities in that same position.

I understand the bill is going to be passed but I wish to state that I feel it should be amended and I am going to vote "no," and am going to offer amendments in the form of bills if the bill does pass.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I voted in the majority.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to state my position regarding this particular measure as related to reconsideration.

It has always been my policy when I thought there was a substantial sentiment in favor of a bill that was in Committee to vote to discharge Committees.

It has always been my policy when a bill was defeated and a motion was made to reconsider, if I thought there was a substantial sentiment in favor of reconsideration, to vote to bring the bill back for the second time to the attention of the House.

In line with that traditional position I shall vote to reconsider, but when the bill comes up for final passage I shall vote against it.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I would just like to make a brief statement to clarify a misunderstanding I may have given some Members on this side of the House.

They asked me if this bill was the Civic Opera bill? I told them I did not think it was, but I understand that this is the Civic Opera bill and I would like to inform them that they are voting to bring back the Civic Opera bill. This is only as a matter of information that I am passing on to the Members of the House.

Mr. CORR. Mr. Speaker, I want to go along with the Minority Leader. I will vote to reconsider but I do not want that to be construed as a vote for the measure when it comes on the floor at a later date.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER declared the yeas appear to have it.

Whereupon, a division was called for, 118 Members, or more than a majority, having voted in the affirmative the question was determined in the affirmative, and the motion was agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is correct.

Mr. WACHHAUS. Mr. Speaker, I thought this bill had died a natural death and was interred. But it seems it has not. I want to oppose the motion.

The SPEAKER declared the yeas appear to have it. Whereupon, a division was called for, 91 Members voted in the affirmative and 66 in the negative, the question was determined in the affirmative, and the motion was agreed to.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, June 6, 1951.

The Senate met at 2:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. L. HERDMAN HARRIS, III, Rector of St. James Memorial Episcopal Church, Titusville, Pennsylvania, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray.

"God of all power and might, and Maker and Ruler of men, we commend our State to the guidance of Thy wisdom and to the keeping of Thy love. May the leaders whom Thy people select to serve them do so in honesty of purpose and in uprightness of life. May the public servants never forget their answerableness to the people whom they serve and to that people's God. Deliver them from the love of power and from motives of personal gain; from considerations of men or money in place of the demands of truth and justice; and from losing patriotism in partisanship.

Bless these Legislators in their ministry with an ever larger vision of truth, an ever deeper sense of the demands of righteousness, that through their faithfulness the life of our people may be guided by wise policies, and lifted to higher ideals and nobler achievements, through Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I do not intend to take the time of the Senate. I just want to call attention to a very important incident that happened today.

House Bill No. 1303, introduced by Mr. Kent of Meadville, came out of committee in the House today. That bill is a result of the talk that was made on the floor of the Senate on May 23 of this year, when I discussed the loopholes in the corporate net income tax. If this bill is passed, there is a great possibility that we may gather between thirty and forty million dollars of additional revenues to the Commonwealth under existing tax laws that are now upon the books. Faced with that possibility, and we hope that it can be done, with the other increases in revenue that we have called attention to, I think that it can easily be said that we can set aside and dispel the rumors that are flying fast and thick all over the Capitol about deals being made by the Minorities and the Majorities and the Majorities and the Minorities. There are no deals made that I know anything about.

Mr. President, we still stand upon the same firm ground that we stood upon back in January. We are opposed to the individual income tax in the Commonwealth and upon that position we stand.

I am happy to know that the Attorney General's office made a study of the remarks I made upon the floor, and as a result of that study has had introduced by Mr. Kent this piece of legislation that will close the loophole in the corporate net income tax law and will reach those persons and corporations in this Commonwealth that have so long escaped their just share of taxation. I am happy to announce that when that bill reaches the Senate of Pennsylvania, I can speak for the Democratic Minority and say that there will be twenty votes for it.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I wish to concur in the remarks made by my colleague from Westmoreland County, Senator Dent, and in fairness to my Democratic colleagues I want to state that there are rumors afloat that six Democrats have made a deal. I think it is very unfair for such a rumor to get around. Our boys do not deal, they haven't dealt and are not going to deal, and anybody that makes such remarks certainly should be a little more careful, because it is unfair to try to label a Member of this Senate with making a deal with the Governor for a job or money, when there is no foundation whatsoever for the rumor

Mr. Lane. Mr. President, I wish to concur in the statements made by the Minority Leader and also the Whip, and I want the Members of the Senate to know that as far as I know there are no deals, and I am one hundred per cent against this income tax bill.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 4, 1951.

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That House Bill No. 231, Printer's No. 232, entitled "An act relating to mental health, including mental illness, mental defect, epilepsy, and inebriety; and amending, revising, consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto," which was recalled from the Governor on May 24, 1951, be returned to the Governor without amendment.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary of the Governor being introduced, presented communications in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which were read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL No. 73

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, June 2, 1951.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 73, Printer's No. 351, entitled "An act to amend Article V of the act approved the tenth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30) entitled 'An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto' by permitting school directors to attend meetings of educational or financial interest to districts and providing for the payment of their expenses."

This bill proposes to amend the Public School Code of 1949, P. L. 30, as amended, by adding a new section (516.1) to permit school directors to attend meetings of educational or financial interest to districts. It provides for reimbursement for all expenses in going to, attending and returning from the meeting not exceeding $8.00 per day, together with mileage at the rate of $.06 for each mile.

This bill has no restriction as to the kind of meetings, the number of meetings, or the place of meetings which a school board may authorize a director to attend at the cost of the district, except that in the opinion of the board it must be of educational or financial advantage to the district.

This restriction is so general that it amounts to none at all.

If this bill were approved, members of the board could attend meetings at public expense anywhere in the world. It would also be possible for members of a board to attend and be paid for an unlimited number of meetings a year.

Although the great majority of school directors would undoubtedly use this authority with discretion, the bill does open the door to abuses which are not now possible and which should not be permitted.

For these reasons, the bill is not approved.

JOHN S. FINE.

COMMUNICATION AND BILL LAID ON TABLE

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I move that the communication, together with the bill be laid upon the table.

The motion was agreed to.

VETO OF HOUSE BILL No. 466

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, June 2, 1951.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 466, Printer's No. 174, entitled "An act requiring cities of the first class to make annual appropriations to Firemen's Pension Funds."

This bill would require the City of Philadelphia, a sum sufficient to make up any deficiency occasioned by an excess of current benefit payments over current contributions and investment income. The bill provides further that no such appropriation should be less than $200,000.

Section 6-600 of the City Charter of Philadelphia vests in a Board of Pensions and Retirement the function of formulating and submitting to city council for consideration and enactment a comprehensive retirement system covering all city employees. I feel that inasmuch as the City of Philadelphia was adopted by the electorate of that city on April 17, 1951, it would be inappropriate for the General Assembly to reassume those powers so recently conferred upon the voters of Philadelphia.

For these reasons, the bill is not approved.

JOHN S. FINE.

COMMUNICATION AND BILL LAID ON TABLE

Mr. WILBUR H. HAMILTON. Mr. Speaker, I move that the communication, together with the bill be laid upon the table.

The motion was agreed to.

VETO OF HOUSE BILL No. 568

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, June 2, 1951.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 568, Printer's No. 280, entitled "An act to further amend section one of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of May one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three (P. L. 129) entitled 'An act to empower boroughs and cities to establish a police pension fund to take property in trust therefor and regulating and providing for the regulation of the same' by further prescribing for the management administration application and regulation of such fund in cities of the first class."

Under existing law, the various boroughs and cities themselves administer and control their respective police pension funds. This bill would, in the case of Philadelphia, vest these functions in a body comprised of the board of directors of the pension fund and the president and three members of the city council.

Section 6-600 of the City Charter of Philadelphia vests in a Board of Pensions and Retirement the function of formulating and submitting to city council for consideration and enactment a comprehensive retirement system covering all city employees. I feel that inasmuch as the City Charter of Philadelphia was adopted by the electorate of that city on April 17, 1951, it would be inappropriate for the General Assembly to reassume those powers so recently conferred upon the people of Philadelphia.

For these reasons, the bill is not approved.

JOHN S. FINE.

COMMUNICATION AND BILL LAID ON TABLE

Mr. COSTA. Mr. Speaker, I move that the communication, together with the bill be laid upon the table.

The motion was agreed to.

VETO OF HOUSE BILL No. 569

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, June 2, 1951.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith, without approval, House Bill No. 569, Printer's No. 239, entitled "An Act to further amend the act approved the twenty-fourth day of May one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three (P. L. 129) entitled 'An act to empower boroughs and cities to establish a police pension fund to take property in trust therefor and regulating and providing for the reformation of the same' by providing a method of paying service increments from the retirement fund in cities OF THE FIRST CLASS to members of the police force after retirement."

The proposed amendment, relating only to cities of the first class, would, in addition to the other retirement benefits, provide for a "service increment" allowance. This allowance would be accorded any member who, after having reached the age of fifty, and after having completed sufficient prior service to become eligible for retirement, nevertheless continues in active service.

Section 6-600 of the City Charter of Philadelphia vests in a Board of Pensions and Retirement the function of formulating and submitting to city council for consideration and enactment a comprehensive retirement system covering all city employees. I feel that inasmuch as the City Charter of Philadelphia was adopted by the electorate of that city on April 17, 1951, it would be inappropriate for the general Assembly to reassume those powers so recently conferred upon the voters of Philadelphia.

For these reasons, the bill is not approved.

JOHN S. FINE.

COMMUNICATION AND BILL LAID ON TABLE

Mr. COSTA. Mr. Speaker, I move that the communication, together with the bill be laid upon the table.

The motion was agreed to.

VETO OF HOUSE BILL No. 647.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, June 2, 1951.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 647, Printer's No. 284, entitled "An act to further amend Section 4 to amend subsection (d) of Section 4-1 to add Section 4.2 and 4.3 and to amend paragraph (1) of Section 14 of the act approved the twentieth day of May one thousand nine hundred fifteen (P. L. 566) entitled 'An act requiring cities of the first class to establish a pension fund for employees of said cities and all county or other public employees if any paid by appropriation of the city councils thereof and out of the treasury of said cities and regulating the administration and the payment of such pensions' by clarifying the amount of contributions by certain pensioners and the method of computing lesser pensions changing date of completing certain payments and the age to which pension increments may be computed fixing minimum pensions and providing benefits for surviving spouse."

The provisions of all the sections amended relate to survivorship pensions limited to the spouses of deceased pensioners.

Section 6-600 of the City Charter of Philadelphia vests in a Board of Pensions and Retirement the function of formulating and submitting to city council for consideration and enactment a comprehensive retirement system covering all city employees. I feel that inasmuch as the City Charter of Philadelphia was adopted by the electorate of that city on April 17, 1951, it would be inappropriate for the general Assembly to reassume those powers so recently conferred upon the voters of Philadelphia.

For these reasons, the bill is not approved.

JOHN S. FINE.

COMMUNICATION AND BILL LAID ON TABLE

Mr. CELLA. Mr. Speaker, I move that the communication, together with the bill be laid upon the table.
The motion was agreed to.

VETO OF HOUSE BILL No. 827.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, June 2, 1951.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 827, Printer's No. 268, entitled "An act to further amend the act approved the twentieth day of May one thousand nine hundred fifteen (P. L. 566) entitled 'An act requiring cities of the first class to establish a pension fund for employees of said cities and all county or other public employees if any paid by appropriation of the city council thereof and out of the treasury of said cities and regulating the administration and the payment of such pensions' by reducing the retirement age."

The amendment proposed simply reduces the retirement age of employees of cities of the first class from sixty to fifty-five years.

Section 6-600 of the City Charter of Philadelphia vests in a Board of Pensions and Retirement the function of formulating and submitting to city council for consideration and enactment a comprehensive retirement system covering all city employees. I feel that inasmuch as the City Charter of Philadelphia was adopted by the electorate of that city on April 17, 1951, it would be inappropriate for the general Assembly to reassume those powers so recently conferred upon the voters of Philadelphia.

For these reasons, the bill is not approved.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. REAGAN. Mr. Speaker, this bill, No. 333, is a bill which raises the salaries of county superintendents, assistant county superintendents, supervisors and assistant county supervisors, and the raise is on an average of about $2 thousand per person. While I have not the exact figures I am told that this would require one half million dollars after it is passed.

This will raise the salaries of superintendents and assistant superintendents, particularly superintendents and supervisors, to approximately the level of our county judges, and will be about on the level with many of the presidents of our colleges.

Now is it possible to combine the next bill, Mr. Speaker, in discussing this matter?

The SPEAKER. Without objection the gentleman will proceed.

Mr. REAGAN. Mr. Speaker, Bill 334 is the general teachers' bill. I am told on good authority that it will require $56 million to make this bill effective.

You will remember in the budget the Governor provided $20 million for the purpose of taking care of raises among the school teachers. This bill would be $36 million more and Bill 333 would be half a million.

That was the situation provided the tax bill passed—the income tax. It has not passed, and it is a matter of doubt whether it will pass. There is no money provided for these things, and it is undignified on the part of the House to pass bills for which we do not have the money to pay. We will be called irresponsible and putting the onus of everything upon the Senate and the Governor. This bill originates right here in the House. We are responsible for the provisions of this bill, and if there is no money in sight we are responsible for whatever is said about us in the newspapers.

I therefore think, action should be deferred on these educational bills until such time as we know that there is money in sight to make them good.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I suggest to the Members of the House that we are not framing a school program from the stand-point of rural parsimony. We are in the process of trying to establish a school program upon such a financial basis as will assure to the children of this state the talent and devotion which they deserve as future citizens.

I also suggest to the Members of this House that inadvertently, and quite without plan they are proceeding properly in the matter of legislative priority. Apparently the gentleman who has just so eloquently addressed this Assembly would fix an arbitrary figure as to revenues and then cut the necessities of his Commonwealth within the perimeter of the circle he has drawn.

It is my conviction, and I hope that it is the conviction of this House, that we assay the needs of this Commonwealth in terms of human necessity. We count first needs, not dollars. We determine what the schools should have, the extent of our appropriation for health purposes, the range of our over-all services which in response to demand we are rendering to the public. Every service that this Commonwealth renders has been a service rendered to the home. If the people of this Commonwealth who formerly housed their own imbecile members now ask the state to do it, they must pay. If the communities that once financed their own relief needs say they prefer that those relief needs should be financed through the Commonwealth, they must pay, and if in response to public demand we raise the standards of education, then the public must pay.

The increases in the cost of the services which the state renders have not reflected the decreased purchasing power of the dollar. I am not amazed nor am I disturbed by the fact that these bills may entail an additional expenditure of $55 million. It is my conviction and has been my conviction that instead of $55 million—if that is the figure—it should have been $10 million more, because we have not, as I said yesterday, equalized the formula through which the Commonwealth functions.

It had not been my intention to address the House today and I would not have taken the opportunity to impose upon you again had the plea not been made that we should not provide for necessary means for education before we had finally provided the money.

Let us determine what we should spend for the schools, what we should spend for these other things and then raise the money, because this is a great and rich state, and there are sources of revenue that need only to be tapped to pour forth abundant funds for all of the necessities of this Commonwealth.

Mr. HELM. Mr. Speaker, I certainly do not want to take the time of this House to debate these bills at length but I do want to straighten out the gentleman from Union, Mr. Reagan. As to the procedure in handling these bills I agree heartily with the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews.

We have before us a program that has been worked out by the committees of this House and the interested groups giving their advice. We have a well rounded program, a sound educational program, and we have taken the responsibility of providing the necessary funds to finance this program.

I do want to say to the gentleman from Union, Mr. Reagan, however, that House Bill 333 in addition to providing salaries for district and county superintendents also provides a salary schedule for the teachers of this Commonwealth.

House Bill 334 provides the money to go back to the districts of this Commonwealth to pay for these increases.

Mr. REAGAN. Mr. Speaker, I did not know that 334 was a tax bill providing money to pay the provisions of either one of these bills.

So far as our eminent advisory on the other side is concerned, if he would have assisted us in passing the income tax we would have no difficulty in financing the whole proceedings.

Mr. CORR. Mr. Speaker, I rise not to debate the merits of this bill, but to call to the attention of those Members whose districts have been discriminated against, that this is their last chance to get their views on the record.

Since these bills benefit a large majority of the school districts of Pennsylvania I cannot and do not advocate the defeat of this measure. Even though it penalizes Pittsburgh and 338 other districts.

In the case of Pittsburgh, Bill 333 mandates that we expend a certain amount of money for teaching and other school subsidies. On the other hand Bill 334 short-changes us over a million dollars, gives us an obligation on one hand and on the other hand you do not provide the funds under the formula worked out. With this discrimination we are in the same position as if funds were provided for a hospital, welfare or other institution. Even though we feel we are not getting our share we do not want those other districts to be short-changed.

We just want to call attention and protest to the manner in which this bill was rushed through. In three days an important piece of legislation is pushed through this House and I am sure many of the Members do not understand the bill nor the amendments proposed by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Rigby.

Take for example the Philadelphia Republicans, they voted solidly against the amendments. By those amendments they receive an additional benefit of nearly $2 million. You cannot make me believe that they understood the provisions of this bill, and there are other groups that were affected in the same manner. I just want to call to the attention of those groups that have been discriminated against, if they have anything to say, well, get it off your chest at this time.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I assume the debate that has been taking place here, and the discussion pertaining to House Bill 333 are equally applicably to 334. I did not wish to speak on House Bill 333, but I think I would be remiss in my duty as a Representative from Philadelphia if I did not again call the attention of the Members of the House to what our Minority Leader yesterday so eloquently expressed.

The formula which of course is being presented here in House Bill 334 is highly discriminatory in so far as Philadelphia is concerned.

Since I have been a Member of the House I think I have risen on each occasion when the reimbursement bills have been presented to the Members of the House for consideration and protested to the manner in which Philadelphia has been treated as a stepchild.

A couple of weeks ago we passed a measure in this House permitting the Board of Education in Philadelphia to impose an additional five mill tax. We were assured that the Board probably would not use such. We were assured that this would be so because we felt that the State at least at this session would not repeat the errors it has committed in the past and would deal more squarely with Philadelphia. But we come to the point where Philadelphia, because of the formula which is expressed in this measure, is again being discriminated against and we in Philadelphia believe it is high time that a community that turns into the State coffers the large bulk of taxes received by the State should be given more equal treatment.

I am hopeful that we will not be compelled to use this five mill additional tax that may be imposed in Philadelphia by the Board of Education. The tax burden of the property holders in Philadelphia is excessive as it is. I am afraid, with the discrimination allowed in this measure, that we may be forced to increase the burden on the taxpayers of Philadelphia and we in Philadelphia do not like it at all.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, one word of wisdom for the benefit of the gentleman from Union.

I would say to him if this House had accorded the same consideration to minority views concerning matters of finance that the House upon occasion has accorded minority views concerning other matters of legislation this General Assembly would not now have come to its present sorry pass.

Mr. RIGBY. Mr. Speaker, I agree with the views of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Corr, that the City of Pittsburgh is certainly being short-changed.

I am going to vote for these bills because Mr. Helm, as of yesterday, has assured us that Dr. Logan said this money will be available. It is going to be interesting to me to see how it is going to be available. I am anxious to see all school teachers obtain a better salary now. But as far as the City of Pittsburgh is concerned they are being short-changed.

In this bill 334 the state is going to spend between $135 to $140 million in teacher unit subsidies in 1952. Pittsburgh will get only two percent of this amount even though it has five percent of all the public school teachers in the state of Pennsylvania. For that reason we believe that we are being short-changed and this bill is going to make it necessary for the school board of Pittsburgh to increase the real estate tax millage. Of course no one likes that.

That is my reason for getting up. I am going to vote for the bill but I do feel that Pittsburgh is being short-changed.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Sollenberger.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny Mr. Sarraf yields to the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Sollenberger.

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. Mr. Speaker, when I arrived in the House I heard the gentleman from Union, Mr. Reagan, talking. I do not know exactly what he meant but the inference might have been that when we came to the superintendents we were going to have to expend a lot of money back home for their salaries.

If Mr. Reagan knows the school law, he knows that the state pays the salaries of the Commission people in the public schools, that is, the superintendent and the assistants, and that is the amount in the law. If the county board or a district board should raise that amount beyond the salary stated in the law then the district board would pay the extra amount. If it is the county superintendent or an assisant county superintendent then the amount beyond the amount in the law will be paid by all the districts under the office of the county superintendent, prorated as they pay other prorated bills.

That ought to clear up the wrong inference that we are going to have to pay this bill back locally.

The gentleman from Philadelphia Mr. Rose said that he felt that Philadelphia was being discriminated against. Under the present law the minimum amount paid to any district is $800. If they are wealthy enough they could come under $800, but the freeze clause which is kept in this bill entitles them to the minimum of state aid. Fortunately Philadelphia at the present time receives $38 per teacher-pupil unit beyond the $800, or $838.

In this proposed bill Philadelphia will receive $500 per teacher unit which is between $3,750,000 and $4 million added to what they now get, and that is the wording of the bill. If that is discrimination against a wealthy and good city, then what about these poor districts that have less than $100,000 per teacher-pupil ratio of the value back of each teacher and the twenty-two or the thirty pupils. That is not discrimination, that is paying a goodly amount to the City of Philadelphia. I did not like to say this but when the inference was made that that city was not being treated well I could not sit still and let it pass, because that is a very nice amount of money.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate Mr. Sollenberger.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Blair, Mr. Sollenberger, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I appreciate what the gentleman has said in relation to the condition in Philadelphia that that is not discrimination, as he puts it. Will you please explain the condition in Pittsburgh?

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. Mr. Speaker, I shall be pleased to do so from the explanatory point of view. I wish they could get more, but under the present findings of the Tax Equalization Board their wealth happens to be enough that it brings them to the point that they will receive approximately $250 per teacher-pupil ratio which would be a little less than $700,000.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, $700,000?

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. Mr. Speaker, yes.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, compared to Philadelphia, if I remember the figure that you gave us, what was it, please?

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. Mr. Speaker, between three and three-quarter and $4 millions—I think that is about correct.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, then the percentage there would be about six to one as compared to about three to one in Pittsburgh?

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. Mr. Speaker, the Doctor is right in his methemathical figures, but he has left out something. The teacher relationship between Pittsburgh and Philadelphia is three to one approximately, which means that there are 2700 plus against about 7800 or 7900 in the city of Philadelphia. That makes a world of difference in the amount of money.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, previous to these particular bills 333 and 334, your ratio between Pittsburgh and Philadelphia has always been about one to three, has it not?

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. Mr. Speaker, I do not believe that I could answer that; that is with proof, but I would presume there is an element of truth in that, yes.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, and yet under this bill, does it not apparently raise them to almost six to one? Approximately, I do not mean to be exact about it.

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. Mr. Speaker, yes, that is the amount of money you are receiving?

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, that is right.

Mr. SOLLENBERGER. Mr. Speaker, that would be true, between one-fifth and one-sixth.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, thank you very much.

Mr. Speaker, as you have noted, I cannot understand it myself, there is no discrimination, nobody is injured, evidently. Yet yesterday, judging from the remarks of the Chairman of the Committee, we are getting a very small amount in Pittsburgh. As I told you yesterday, the real estate tax bill raising one and a half mills on the citizens of Pittsburgh will appear on your calendar tomorrow. This should be moved slowly, as I say, and as the representative on the other side stated.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I just want to make this comment in response to the statement made by the gentleman from Armstrong.

It is true that under this measure Philadelphia is receiving a fairly substantial amount. We are grateful for the generosity displayed by the gentleman on the other side, and I realize the problem that he and his Committee had to wrestle with. They apparently felt that they did an equitable job in presenting this measure to us for consideration today, but it is still our contention in Philadelphia that we are being discriminated against, although less so in this session than in the past. If the formula were more equitable Philadelphia would get far more than the $3 to $4 millions that is going to be given us for educational purposes, probably twice as much.

We are grateful for the help given to us, but we feel that they have not gone far enough.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

district's public schools and joint elementary schools by two thousand four hundred fifty dollars ($2450) and by the district's standard reimbursement fraction]

Every school district and every vocational school district shall be paid by the Commonwealth [for the school year 1949-1950] on account of the instruction of all pupils in average daily membership in the district's public schools [and] joint elementary schools and joint high schools an amount to be determined by multiplying the number of teaching units based on the number of all pupils in average daily membership in the district's public schools [and] joint elementary schools [by three thousand three hundred fifty dollars ($3350) and] joint high schools by the district's standard reimbursement fraction and for the school year 1950-1951 by three thousand eight hundred fifty dollars ($3850) for the school year 1951-1952 by four thousand dollars ($4000) for the school year 1952-1953 by four thousand three hundred dollars ($4300) for the school year 1953-1954 by four thousand five hundred dollars ($4500) for the school year 1954-1955 by four thousand seven hundred dollars ($4700) for the school year 1955-1956 by four thousand nine hundred dollars ($4900) for the school year 1956-1957 by five thousand one hundred dollars ($5100) for the school year 1957-1958 by five thousand three hundred dollars ($5300) for the school year 1958-1959 and for each school year thereafter by five thousand five hundred dollars ($5500) Provided That the amount of payment to be made by the Commonwealth to any school district during the school year [1950-1951 for the school year 1949-1950] 1951-1952 and 1952-1953 for the school years 1950-1951 and 1951-1952 on account of the instruction of pupils under the provisions of this section shall not be less than the amount paid to the district during the school year 1949-1950 on account of the instruction of pupils Provided further that if the number of teaching units in any school district for the school year 1950-1951 or 1951-1952 is less than the number of teaching units for the school year 1948-1949 the payment by the Commonwealth shall be reduced proportionately

[Every school district and every vocational school district shall be paid by the Commonwealth for the school year 1950-1951 and for every school year thereafter on account of the instruction of all pupils in average daily membership in the district's public schools and joint elementary schools an amount to be determined by multiplying the number of teaching units based on the number of all pupils in average daily membership in the district's public schools [and joint elementary schools] by three thousand four hundred fifty dollars ($3450) and by the district's standard reimbursement fraction]

In all cases the supplemental payments specified in the foregoing shall be made only for organizations approved by the Department of Public Instruction

tinued operation of a small high school the district shall receive an amount based on a number of teaching units equal to the number of teachers approved by the State Council of Education as being required to provide a satisfactory educational program in such school provided that the number of teachers employed is not less than the number approved

For no year shall any school district or vocational school district receive less than the minimum subsidy per teaching unit

Section 2503 Payments on account of tuition (a) Each school district regardless of classification sending pupils to another school district or vocational school district or to a joint [high] school approved by the Department of Public Instruction shall be paid by the Commonwealth for every school year on account of tuition an amount to be determined by multiplying the sum of "overhead cost per pupil" and "instruction cost per elementary pupil" or "instruction cost per high school pupil" as the case may be as defined in section two thousand five hundred sixty-one of this act or in the case of district pupils attending a school not located in this Commonwealth on the basis of a reasonable tuition charge per pupil to be determined by the Superintendent of Public Instruction (1) by the number of district pupils [except district pupils attending a high school operated by a joint board of which the district of residence is a member] sent to schools of other districts or to [a joint school] joint schools and (II) by the district's standard reimbursement fraction and (III) for tuition up to and including the school year 1948-1949 by seventy-five-one-thousands (.75) and thereafter by eighty-five-one-thousandths (.85) and (IV) subtracting from the amount so obtained the per pupil state appropriation paid to the district where the pupil attends school multiplied by the number of pupils

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective on the first day of July one thousand nine hundred fifty-one

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. HELM asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

It is my desire to express to my colleagues in this House my sincere appreciation and the appreciation of my co-sponsors, the gentleman from Carbon County, Mr. Scott, and the gentleman from Indiana County, Mr. McMillen, for the favorable action on the two important pieces of legislation upon which we have just voted, House Bill 333 and House Bill 334.

I consider it a privilege to have been one of the co-sponsors of this legislation which has as its purpose the continued development of our public schools. Recently I read a statement with which I was greatly impressed. It read as follows:

Children can be children only once. If they are denied a good education while young, the loss can never be fully made up to them. Some children need careful and wise guidance. Others are growing up unschooled or inadequately schooled. In a fast-moving, tense, loose-triggered world, young people need more than ever to be equipped to cope with an uncertain and difficult future. A good school system should be one of the universally recognized means of giving that kind of preparation.

While I had never thought too much about it before, it is for this reason, I suppose, that I have been a member of a school board for fourteen years. It is for this reason, perhaps, that I have been interested in and joined in during recent bienniums in the sponsorship of major pieces of legislation of benefit to teachers, and providing more liberal appropriations from the Commonwealth for the public schools.

It is this reason, also, I am sure, that has prompted the gentleman from Blair County, Mr. Sollenberger, Chairman of our Committee on Education, to give such devoted service to this body; that has compelled other members in years past to join in sponsorship of school legislation; that has prompted all members of the General Assembly on this side and the other side alike to be responsive to the needs of the public schools; and which prompted our Governor in his inaugural address to say:

Our greatest wealth, our most valuable possessions, are the two million children and youth in our Commonwealth. Soon they must assume the responsibilities of leadership. To them falls that opportunity of perpetuating the American way of life. They must be prepared for that opportunity physically, mentally, and spiritually, that they will not fail.

The legislation that has just been approved by this House should be far reaching in its benefits.

The provision of House Bill 333 which concerns salaries gives to Pennsylvania teachers a state-wide mandated single salary schedule second to none in the Nation. It provides, also, for all professional employes a double increment, and thus compensates for the salary lag due to the spiraling cost of living.

The subsidy program in House Bill 334 has been geared to meet the salary requirements of House Bill 333. Practically all districts of the Commonwealth will receive, under the provisions of this bill, sufficient additional appropriations to provide for the increased salaries payable during the next term.

I am sure that I express the wish of every Member of this House that as a result of this legislation the best talented youth of our Commonwealth may recognize the opportunities for public service in the profession of teaching, and that our devoted public school teachers now in service will receive new inspiration in the knowledge that the importance of their work is being recognized.

I should like to express my appreciation to the organized teaching profession of the Commonwealth, which through the Pennsylvania State Education Association, initiated and sponsored the program. I express, also, appreciation to the Pennsylvania State School Directors Association which joined in the development of the bills as they were before us today; to Mr. Wagner, Chairman, and his colleagues of the Education Committee in the Senate, for joining in the conferences; to our Superintendent of Public Instruction, Doctor Francis B. Haas, and his associates for their counsel and their factual guidance; and finally, to the Pennsylvania Congress of Parents and Teachers, which, knowing the educational needs of the children of the Commonwealth, has supported this program from the beginning.

Again may I express appreciation to all my colleagues in this House for their favorable action on these measures. We have acted not for ourselves, but for posterity.

BLAIRSVILLE CHAPTER OF NATIONAL FORENSIC LEAGUE WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair is pleased to welcome the Blairsville Chapter of the National Forensic League, Blairsville High School, Blairsville, under the supervision of Mrs. Watt, teacher. They are the guests of the gentleman from Indiana, Messrs. McMillen and Hewitt.

MEADVILLE YMCA BOYS WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair welcomes twenty-nine YMCA boys from Meadville, under the supervision of Mr. Lawrence Best and Mr. Robert Ballantyne. They are guests of the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Kent.

FORMER MEMBER WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The Chair is pleased to welcome a former Member of the House, the gentleman from Allegheny, Honorable Charles M. Christler, accompanied by his two children.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 589, as follows:

An Act to amend section one thousand one hundred forty-seven of the act approved the tenth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" by further providing for additional increments for holders of college certificates or Masters' Degrees

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section one thousand nine hundred forty-four of the act approved the tenth day of March one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 30) entitled "An act relating to the public school system including certain provisions applicable as well to private and parochial schools amending revising consolidating and changing the laws relating thereto" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1144 Additional Increments for College Certificate or Master's Degree Any professional employe or temporary professional employe who during the term of his employment shall receive a college certificate or shall earn a Master's Degree shall commencing with the next succeeding school term be entitled to the compensation prescribed for his new status which shall be at least two hundred dollars ($200) in excess of the increment earned by him during the previous year

And temporary professional employe who holds a Master's Degree at the time of his initial employment in the public schools of this Commonwealth shall receive commencing with the second year of service compensation of at least two hundred dollars ($200) in excess of that to which such employe would otherwise be entitled

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BOLTON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Bedford, Mr. Clapper, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CLAPPER. Mr. Speaker, I shall.

Mr. BOLTON. Mr. Speaker, how much will this bill cost the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania?

Mr. CLAPPER. Mr. Speaker, in response to the gentleman's question, I would answer in this way: Not having the actual data as to how many teachers hold a master's degree in the state of Pennsylvania I would be unable to answer that question. It would also be necessary to know how many individuals now in the teaching profession would earn their master's degree during the coming school term.

Mr. BOLTON. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman.

Apparently the sponsors of this bill are requesting the House of Representatives to sign a blank check for an unknown amount of money for an unknown number of people. It seems to me that the House should certainly be supplied with sufficient information to intelligently judge the cost of this bill before it comes up for passage.

Mr. CLAPPER. Mr. Speaker, for the benefit of the Members of the House I would like to say that the number of teachers who would be benefited by this bill would not be too large, because a large number of the teachers holding master's degrees already are receiving the $200. This bill just takes care of those who have not already been granted the $200 increase.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows:

or labor disputes between public utility employers engaged in furnishing electric gas water and steam heat services to the public and their employees which cause or threaten to cause strikes lockouts slowdowns or similar work stoppages and consequent interruptions in the supply of a public utility service on which a community served is so dependent that severe hardship would be inflicted on a substantial number of persons by a cessation of such service providing procedures for the adjustment and settlement of such disputes declaring that the public policy of the Commonwealth requires the continuation without cessation of such public utility services and providing means including regulations affecting the rights powers and privileges of employers and employees for the enforcement of such public policy and providing penalties" by bringing within the provisions of this act public utility employers and employees engaged in furnishing urban passenger transportation to the public making editorial corrections and making the provisions thereof effective as to presently existing labor disputes and work stoppages.

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 The title and Sections 1 2 5 and 6 of the act approved the thirtieth day of June one thousand nine hundred forty-seven (P. L. 1161) entitled "An act to provide for the prompt peaceful and just settlement of labor disputes between public utility employers engaged in furnishing electric gas water and steam heat services to the public and their employees which cause or threaten to cause strikes lockouts slowdowns or similar work stoppages and consequent interruptions in the supply of a public utility service on which a community served is so dependent that severe hardship would be inflicted on a substantial number of persons by a cessation of such service providing procedures for the adjustment and settlement of such disputes declaring that the public policy of the Commonwealth requires the continuation without cessation of such public utility services and providing means including regulations affecting the rights powers and privileges of employers and employees for the enforcement of such public policy and providing penalties" are hereby amended to read as follows

An Act

To provide for the prompt peaceful and just settlement of labor disputes between public utility employers engaged in furnishing urban passenger transportation electric gas water and steam heat services to the public and their employees which cause or threaten to cause strikes lockouts slowdowns or similar work stoppages and consequent interruptions in the supply of a public utility service on which a community served is so dependent that severe hardship would be inflicted on a substantial number of persons by a cessation of such service providing procedures for the adjustment and settlement of such disputes declaring that the public policy of the Commonwealth requires the continuation without cessation of such public utility services and providing means including regulations affecting the rights powers and privileges of employers and employees for the enforcement of such public policy and providing penalties

Section 1 That it is hereby declared to be the public policy of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that it is necessary and essential in the public interest to facilitate the prompt peaceful and just settlement of labor disputes between public utility employers engaged in furnishing urban passenger transportation electric gas water and steam heat services to the public and their employees which cause or threaten to cause an interruption in the supply of service necessary to the health safety and well being of the citizens of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and to that end to encourage the making and maintaining of agreements concerning wages hours and other conditions of employment through collective bargaining between public utility employers and their employees and to provide settlement procedures for labor disputes between public utility employers and their employees in cases where the collective bargaining process has reached an impasse and stalemate and as a result thereof the parties are unable to effect such settlement and which labor disputes are likely to cause interruption of the supply of a public utility service on which the community so affected is so dependent that severe hardship would be inflicted on a substantial number of persons by a cessation of such service

Section 2 As used in this act

(a) The term "public utility" or "public utility employers" means a private employer subject to the jurisdiction of the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission and engaged in the business of rendering urban passenger transportation electric gas water and steam heat services to the public in this Commonwealth

Section 6 The mediator so named shall expeditiously meet with the disputing parties or their representatives and shall exert every reasonable effort to effect a prompt settlement of the labor dispute After the appointment of a mediator by the Governor [as provided for in section 5 hereof] there shall be no interruption of work and no strikes or slowdowns by employees and there shall be no lockout or other work stoppage by the employer until such time as all of the procedure provided for in this act has been exhausted or during the effective period of any order issued by a board of arbitration pursuant to the provisions of this act unless the Governor shall determine that failure to settle the dispute would not cause severe hardship to be inflicted on a substantial number of persons

Section 2 This amendment shall be effective as to any presently existing labor disputes and work stoppages as well as future labor disputes involving public utility employers engaged in furnishing urban passenger transportation but no person shall be subject to prosecution under this law for any acts committed prior to the effective date of this act in labor disputes and work stoppages involving public utility employers engaged in furnishing urban passenger transportation

Section 4 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?
It was agreed to.
On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TOLL. Mr. Speaker, this bill 1187 is an amendment to the Compulsory Arbitration Act of 1947. In view of the recent decision of the United States Supreme Court on this subject, I want to call your attention to the fact that you are about to vote on an amendment to an Act which will be declared unconstitutional if it is appealed to the United States Supreme Court.

The Act of 1947, the Compulsory Arbitration Act, which has been on our books for four years covers gas, electric, steam, steam heat and water. It is now being extended to include urban passenger transportation.

The Act of 1947 specifically covers wages, hours, and other conditions of employment as you will note in Section 1. This is similar to a wording of Section 9a of the Labor Management Relations Act of 1947. That is a Federal Act which provides for collective bargaining in respect to rates of pay, wages, hours of employment or other conditions of employment.

This brings the Pennsylvania Act in direct conflict with federal labor legislation. The problem is, has Congress so occupied the field of labor legislation that by the doctrine of paramount rights it has excluded the states from making enactments which negate the right of workers employed in industries affecting inter-state commerce to strike. The National Labor Relations Act of 1935 Section 7 as amended by the Labor Management Relations Act of 1947,—that is the Wagner Act, and the Taft-Hartley Act guaranteed the right to strike with certain restrictions.

The Supreme Court of the United States has recently held that these two Acts do not permit concurrent state regulation of peaceful strikes for higher wages. I refer to the decision of the United States Supreme Court on February 26, 1951 in the statute involving the same subject which was passed in the State of Wisconsin.

If any of you have examined the magazine which is received by all the state Representatives called "State Government," the issue of 1951, this subject was called to your attention, that anti-strike legislation under that heading is an out-growth of the recent United States Supreme Court decision invalidating a Wisconsin utility strike ban.

Attorney General J. E. Taylor of Missouri has ruled that Missouri's four year old Public Utility anti-strike law is unconstitutional as in conflict with federal labor legislation.

Congress has occupied this field and closed it to state regulation. The United States Supreme Court in the Wisconsin case held that these acts were intended by Congress to regulate labor relations to the fullest extent of its constitutional power under the commerce clause.

This subject is not merely being discussed for the benefit of the lawyers, but as law-makers all of the members of the House should be familiar with the problem of conflicted between state and federal legislation.

The National Labor Relations Act of 1935 and the Labor Management Relations Act of 1947 are the supreme rule of the land. Under Article VI of the Constitution, the Supreme Court having found that the Wisconsin Public Utility anti-strike law conflicts with that of the federal legislation the judgment enforcing the Wisconsin Act cannot stand.

I want to read to you a page from the thesis prepared by a Philadelphia student, Lester Eistenstadt, which was prepared for the benefit of the faculty of the undergraduate division of the Wharton School, in which he states:

The contention of the respondents (in Wisconsin, he is comparing the Wisconsin statute and the Pennsylvania statute as the subject of his thesis) that the importance of gas and transit service to a local community make it best for local governmental authority to handle this problem and the rebuttal by the National Labor Relations Board that compulsory arbitration destroys free collective bargaining make it apparent that this problem is one for legislative solution—not judicial. Therefore, the Court must take comprehensive and valid federal legislation as enacted and declare invalid state regulation which impinges on that legislation.

In summation, the United States Supreme Court, in considering the Wisconsin statute stated:

The National Labor Relations Act of 1935 and the Labor-Management Relations Act of 1947 are the supreme law of the land under Article VI of the Constitution. Having found that the Wisconsin Public Utility Anti-Strike Law conflicts with that federal legislation, the judgments enforcing the Wisconsin act cannot stand.

This student in making a comparison between Wisconsin and Pennsylvania says as follows:

It seems apparent that if and when an appeal is taken by either party to a labor dispute from a decision of the board of arbitration under the Pennsylvania compulsory arbitration law, or from an injunction by a Court of Common Pleas under this Act, the Supreme Court of the Commonwealth should, and the Supreme Court of the United States will, declare the Pennsylvania law to be unconstitutional.

In conclusion this student in his thesis makes the following observation: The Act of 1947, the Compulsory Arbitration Act, is a loosely-drawn document with numerous sins of omission and commission. In fact, the legalistic approach to the solution of an intricate problem intertwined with human emotions that must live with any solution doomed this piece of legislation from the very start. If constitution, the Pennsylvania statute will be a cause of endless disputes and inequities, to say nothing of litigation ad infinitum. However, an examination of a recent Supreme Court decision which invalidated a similar Wisconsin enactment makes it certain that unless there is Congressional passage of some form of compulsory arbitration, this Pennsylvania statute will meet the same fate. The unconstitutional aspects of the Pennsylvania statute are a blessing, because this statute could easily become a monster on the stage of human and labor relations.

I call your attention to the fact that the amendments contained in Hous Bill 1187 relating to urban passenger transportation would increase the size and the scope of this monster.

Mr. MAZZA. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose this bill, because I feel it is going to disrupt the collective bargaining which is already set up with the public utility workers. I feel that if we are going to legislate compulsory arbitration, that we are off on the wrong track. I feel that we absolutely should continue to go in with the law as it is written. If we are going to legislate arbitration, then we are absolutely on the wrong track.

I urge the Members of this House to vote down this particular bill.

Mr. LOUIS LEONARD. Mr. Speaker, I rise to oppose House Bill 1187. I believe I qualify to speak against a bill of this kind.

I have had considerable experience in trying to bring about settlements of labor disputes. I find that if it is agreeable to both sides to have arbitration, well, we have no kick to that, but when it comes down to utilities which affect all of the people that the utilities serve, it is a different proposition. The employer can sit back in his chair, knowing all the time that if the men strike the peoples' sentiment will grow against the strikers. The newspapers always take that position, and naturally you will deny the worker who works for the utilities the same right as enjoyed by all other workers.

You cannot legislate harmonious labor relations by force. Why should we consider a bill of this kind when we would be setting aside the rights and privileges that are guaranteed these workers?

I hope the Members of the House look at it from that viewpoint and vote this bill down.

Mr. BOLTON. Mr. Speaker, as the learned gentleman on the other side of the House has pointed out, this bill is an amendment to a presently existing law on the statute books of Pennsylvania. Section 1 of this law reads as follows:

That it is hereby declared to be the public policy of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that it is necessary and essential in the public interest to facilitate the prompt, peaceful and just settlement of labor disputes between public utility employers engaged in furnishing electric, gas, water and steam heat services to the public and their employes which cause or threaten to cause an interruption in the supply of service necessary to the health, safety and well being of the citizens of the Commonwealth.

Urban passenger transportation in this day of highly industrialized cities and communities is as much a public utility as the services and supplies that are presently mentioned in the Act of 1947. A cessation of such public utility service can cause tremendous damage, endanger life and cause loss of property.

I recognize in some of the arguments put out by the opponents of this bill, the fine Italian hand of Mr. James L. McDevitt, president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor, who wrote a letter to some Members of this House on May 18th in which he states that the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor had not opposed the passage of the 1947 bill because of the possibility of loss of life and property through work stoppages; but that he is now and always has been over the years unalterably opposed to the principle of compulsory arbitration because "it denies us the right of free collective bargaining."

Apply it now to the field of transportation means only the first step in a series of such amendments that would eventually place all types of work as under a compulsory law that would finally result, Mr. Speaker, in a totalitarian form of government.

He goes on further to say: surely no one can say that a strike in the transportation industry would cause the loss of lives or property.

Some seven years ago I was with an infantry unit in France, and at that time we had reached a point in the operation in which we were engaged, where my unit became the reserve unit. As such we became entitled to the luxury of a fox hole and a daily issue of the "Stars and Stripes" which at that time was the official army newspaper. As we reached this rest area we received a copy of the "Stars and Stripes" in which it stated that the Philadelphia Transportation Company had been struck by the union, and that a Division of the United States Army had been moved in to operate the facilities of the company.

At that time the unit of which I was a member was seriously "hurting" as the expression was at the time, due to the interruption in the supply of food, clothing, ammunition, replacements and new weapons, and we had the rather peculiar feeling when we read of this transportation company strike, that very possibly Philadelphia, which was one of the principal arsenals of this country at the time, would certainly be hampered in its efforts to keep our unit in condition.

We were seriously "hurting" at the time for replacements, for infantry replacements, and we read that the 104th United States Army Division had been pulled from its preparation for overseas movement to take the place of the employes of the Philadelphia Transportation Company.

Mr. Speaker, I submit, despite Mr. McDevitt's statement, that the cessation of service in the Philadelphia Transportation Company caused loss of life and caused a serious loss of property in the city of Philadelphia and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

One of the learned gentlemen on the other side of the House has stated that a law student has questioned the constitutionality of the 1947 Public Utility No-strike Act.

We must say it is the first law student that has made the Judiciary—since I can remember, at any rate.

He discussed at some length the Supreme Court decision on the Wisconsin Public Utility No-strike law. I assure the gentleman I am quite familiar with that decision. I have had the decision checked, and the Pennsylvania law checked, by two firms of first rate constitutional lawyers. They find no trouble with the 1947 Act or my amendment thereto.

In addition, I have checked the lack of legislation. If the gentleman is familiar with the Supreme Court decision, he must realize that both the majority decision and the dissenting opinion in that case both specifically mentioned the loopholes in the Taft-Hartley Act because of which they declared the Wisconsin law unconstitutional.

I am in constant touch with a member of the United States Congress who is a member of the House Labor and Education Committee. He informs me that legislation is now in his committee and probably will be favorably reported out and favorably voted on by the Congress to fill in the vacant spots in the Taft-Hartley Act which will in that case, validate the Wisconsin law.

Of course, this learned law student apparently has made a thorough analysis of the Wisconsin law, and I believe, the gentleman said a Missouri law. I am not familiar with either but I presume the Pennsylvania law can stand on its own legs.

Organized labor, the management side of labor, has opposed the passage of this amendment to the 1947 Act. However, the small labor side of the picture, the people who actually labor, have written to me and to several other Members of this House to some extent. I would like to read one communication I have received. This is a post card from a gentleman in Philadelphia. It reads as follows:

Dear Sir: More speed to you and your bills to stop transit strikes. I am a Union man myself but I am sick and tired of walking to work because of strikes. If necessary, why not have a secret ballot to poll labor?

The gentleman, I am afraid, is a little bit ignorant of parliamentary processes of the Pennsylvania General Assembly although it might be a good idea. This post card is typical of other communications, and six telephone calls which I received—three from president of American Federation of Labor Unions and three from shop stewards in American Federation of labor unions, all of whom wished me luck with the bill and said if there was anything they could do to help me to get it through, they would be glad to do so—"just do not mention my name," of course, was at the end of the communication.

I feel that this amendment to the 1947 Act is definitely in the public interest. Organized labor states that it abrogates or negates that sacred cow of organized labor, labor's right to strike. I think Section 1 of the old Act of 1947 covers that argument without any argument. This is an act to provide for the prompt, peaceful and just settlement of labor disputes in the supplying of a public utility service on which the community served is so dependent that severe hardship would be inflicted on a substantial number of persons by a cessation of such service. It provides procedures for the adjustment and settlement of such disputes.

The question here is not the right of labor to strike or how organized labor or the management end of labor feels towards this bill; the question is will the public welfare be served by the passage of this bill. I believe it is and I request all Members of this House of Representatives to provide for that public welfare by the passage of the act.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, when the present speaker was Majority Floor Leader I frequently had occasion to admire the brevity and the effectiveness of his addresses. On more than one occasion I made a labored and highly intellectual presentation in favor of a bill.

Mr. Speaker, that Floor Leader rose and said: "This is a bad bill. I hope the Members of the House will all vote against it." And down went my labored argument.

I would like to emulate and imitate that formula and say: "Gentlemen of the House: This is a bad bill. I hope you will vote against it."

Mr. LOUIS LEONARD. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate Mr. Bolton.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentlemen from Montgomery, Mr. Bolton, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BOLTON. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOUIS LEONARD. Mr. Speaker, Mr. Bolton in his remarks on this bill, said that there were several Union A F of L presidents who called him and wished him luck. What I am interested in, did Mr. Bolton know these men were A F of L union presidents?

Mr. BOLTON. Mr. Speaker, I do not know the gentlemen who called me personally, all I know is their statement that they were the heads of the local of the A F of L. They gave me the very complicated names of these Unions and I attempted no further identification.

Mr. LOUIS LEONARD. Mr. Speaker, did the gentleman just personally take his word for it that he was the president of a Union?

Mr. BOLTON. Mr. Speaker, I took his word for it. I still take his word for it. I believe the man implicitly.

Mr. LOUIS LEONARD. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, in view of the remarkable success of the former Majority Leader's formula for slaughtering legislation, perhaps I should try to repeat that there is always danger in trying to repeat.

The bill before you has an interesting background. It amends the Act of 1937 relative to the Board of Arbitration and Claims by increasing the per diem compensation from $35 to $50 a day, plus $15 a day for maintenance and five cents per mile.

Apparently the members of this board became dissatisfied with their $35 a day and staged a sit down strike. Failed to function. Failed to pass upon the matters before them. They went on a strike for higher wages.

The bill was introduced in the Senate to give them $75 a day plus $15 a day for maintenance and 5 cents for mileage. The bill has been amended to $50 a day.

I suggest that, in view of the peculiar circumstances, this bill go on the postponed calendar until we have had more time to think about it.

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the final passage postponed calendar.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection

Senate Bill No. 531, Printer's No. 206

The resolution was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 6, 1951.

The sudden death of Dennis Cardinal Dougherty has saddened thousands of people within and without the Catholic Church; for everyone in the Archdiocese of Philadelphia has experienced the benign impact of his spiritual vigor that has flowed unspent for eighty-five years.

The life of Cardinal Dougherty reads like a story of religious adventure and triumph. As a mere boy he was fired with the ambition to enter the Church. In a characteristic Catholic manner he builded thoroughly and well, excelling brilliantly in the studies that led to his ordination as a priest in the Church of St. John Lateran in Rome in 1890.

His rise in the ecclesiastical hierarchy was inevitable. His dynamic energy, his spiritual vitality, his administrative skill, and his zeal for the Christian life and values could not be denied. The finger of destiny had unwaveringly guided him to the Sacred College in Rome, where he became in 1921 a Cardinal for the Archdiocese of Philadelphia.

During his first ten years as Cardinal, Catholic influence and works were magnificently extended, as attested by many new parishes, schools, churches, colleges, and communities. As a living symbol of Catholic permanence and tradition, Cardinal Dougherty labored long and hard throughout many years to carry the light of Christian truth into the shadows of ignorance and intolerance, to bring a spiritual solace to the benighted, and to relieve the misery and squalor in many areas with the material comfort of a more bountiful life; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives express its profound sorrow at the passing of Dennis Cardinal Dougherty—a valiant Prince of the Church, and be it further

Resolved, That this House of Representatives commiserate with countless thousands in their irreparable loss of an exalted spiritual leader, whose contributions to the civic and the religious life of his community can never be truly appraised, and be it further

Resolved, That this House of Representatives pause in its deliberations to acknowledge gratefully the far reaching and majestic scope of Dennis Cardinal Dougherty's contribution to the welfare of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

PERMISSION TO ADD ADDITIONAL SPONSORS

Mr. BUCCHIN asked and obtained unanimous consent to add additional sponsors to a resolution to be introduced by him.

RESOLUTION

CONDOLENCE

Messrs. BUCCHIN, GAFFNEY, GOOD, JOHN M. JONES, Mrs. MARKLEY, Messrs. VAN SANT and STIMMEL offered a resolution which was read, considered and unanimously adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 6, 1951.

The last summons have come to a distinguished ex-assemblyman, John N. Hoffman of Bangor.

He was a Republican member of the House in 1920, 1938, 1942, 1944 and 1946. In 1948 the unexpected vote for President Truman ended the long political career of John N. Hoffman. His enthusiasm, his industry, his competence brought early recognition to him as a legislative leader.

Aside from his fruitful political and civic endeavors, Mr. Hoffman became an outstanding business personality. It is always a fascinating story of success when a water boy with an organization scorns every handicap and difficulty and through sheer, indomitable courage forges his way to the very top as Mr. Hoffman did when he became president of the Bangor and Portland Railroad.

His business triumphs were extended to the slate industry in which he again became a dominant figure.

The First United Evangelical Church of Bangor was also indebted to Mr. Hoffman for his interest and labors in the Sunday school, church, and missions throughout many years.

In 1950, Mr. Hoffman was signally honored when he became designated the outstanding citizen of Bangor. Mr. Hoffman's life was long—seventy-nine years—and was crowded with the many activities that arise from strong business, political, civic, and religious ties; therefore be it

Resolved, That this House of Representatives mourns the passing of a distinguished former member, John N. Hoffman; and be it further

Resolved, That this House of Representatives acknowledges gratefully the many contributions to the civic, religious and business life of the Commonwealth that were made during the prolific career of Mr. Hoffman; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of this House of Representatives be instructed to transmit a copy of this resolution to Mrs. Mary Hoffman, the surviving widow of Mr. Hoffman.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY MAJORITY FLOOR LEADER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I would like to inform the gentlemen of the Senate that when we convene on June 18th, it is our present expectation that we will have a session through Friday of that week.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. YOSKO asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. YOSKO. I desire to make a brief statement at this time.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Northampton may proceed.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, for the last couple of days, a Congressional Committee has been conducting an investigation on the conduct of the G. I. Schools in Pennsylvania, and it is a shame and a disgrace to our State. I could talk about this for an hour, I suppose, but I do not wish to take the time of the Senate as I know everybody wants to go home.

Mr. President, I just want to make this one observation that I do hope that the Governor will weigh the statements that were made before this Congressional Committee and remove those from the pay roll, if they have not already been removed from the pay roll, that have in any way violated the public trust that was placed in them when they were placed on the pay roll.

I further suggest that the Attorney General look into the admissions that were made by some of the employees attached to the Department of Public Instruction in granting licenses to the G. I. Schools, and if it is found that they have been violating the law in any way to bring prosecution. One of the troubles here in the State Government is the fact that some of the employees that are charged with public trust abuse that trust, and the only thing that ever happens to them is that they are fired and we let it go at that. I think those that violate a public trust ought to be criminally prosecuted and ought to be punished accordingly.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WALKER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I appreciate the comments of the gentleman from Northampton, and I want to say to him that the matter, of course, has been before the Governor, and I want to reassure him that the Chief Executive of the Commonwealth will take whatever action, disciplinary or otherwise, that the facts merit. I want to further assure him that the matter is not going unrecognized.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Monday, June 18, 1951, at 2:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

THURSDAY, June 7, 1951

The House met at 9:00 a. m. EST.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Norman Wood) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Reverend Charles F. Trunk, Jr., guest Chaplain and pastor of the Bethlehem Lutheran Church, Harrisburg, offered the following prayer:

Gracious God, our Father in Heaven, we thank Thee for Thy goodness to us—for life and health, for loved ones and friends, for the gift of freedom and the hope of the future. Help us to preserve our inheritance and to give a legacy of good government to those who follow us. Protect us from professional attitudes in ourselves, so that all our actions may be determined by our interest in the ones we represent—rather than in ourselves. Make us worthy servants of Thy people with the help of Thy Spirit for Thy Name's sake. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER pro tempore. As there any corrections to the Journal of Wednesday, June 6, 1951? If not, and without objection, the Journal is approved.

By Mr. SOLLENBERGER. RESOLUTION No. 52.

In the House of Representatives, June 5, 1951.

Whereas, The courses of study and methods of instruction followed and used in the schools for the deaf are regarded as an antiquated process and not in keeping with the advanced forms adopted by other States as far back as 1910; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Joint State Government Commission is hereby directed to make a careful, thorough and impartial study and examination of the various regulations, laws and statutes of other states pertaining to methods of instruction used in teaching the deaf and be it further

By Messrs. LEDERER and BYRNE. RESOLUTION No. 53.

In the House of Representatives, June 6, 1951.

Whereas, The State and Federal governments have assumed the responsibility for the restoration, improvement and maintenance of the major historical treasures of Philadelphia through the creation of the Independence National Historical Park project including Independence Hall, Carpenters' Hall and other historic structures, and through the development of the Mall in Philadelphia;

Whereas, Philadelphia has many other historic sites of lesser significance when compared with Independence Hall, but nevertheless of great importance in the history of the Commonwealth, such sites including the Penn Treaty Park which marks the site of William Penn's famous treaty with the Indians under the Shackamaxon Elm, and the Crispin Cemetery in which is buried Thomas Holme, first surveyor-general of the Province of Pennsylvania, the man who laid out Philadelphia;

Whereas, These two historic sites, the Penn Treaty Park and the Crispin Cemetery, have been in such a state of neglect that they have repeatedly been the subject of proposed appropriations in the General Assembly of the Commonwealth; now therefore be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives, hereby calls upon the City of Philadelphia, in view of the fact that the responsibility for the major historic shrines of the city has been assumed by the State and Federal governments, to take measures for the proper care and development of the Penn Treaty Park and care of Crispin Cemetery and such other minor historic sites which are the proper subject for civic action; and be it further

Resolved, That the City of Philadelphia should without delay carry out its responsibility for the proper care and improvement of the Penn Treaty Park, which is a property of the City.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. ANDREWS asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, we will cooperate with the majority leadership in an effort to see that this House remains a deliberative body up until the time the final gavel falls.

There is no reason why there should be a final attempt to crowd into a few hours the work we have neglected to do during the past five months. The travesty of turning the clock back, and having weary members of this House and weary Senators struggle against time is a manifest absurdity.

It will be quite possible for the majority to arrange a program so that we can close this session decently and in order for once and set a precedent.

We will reserve the right and privilege of examining appropriation bills carefully and most certainly we will not at this session pass appropriation bills purely as a matter of routine.

We have no confidence in the operations of the Budget Office which advises the Governor and through which the Appropriations Committee must necessarily act. We believe that the Budget Officer is the center of subterfuge, of deception.

The record shows that leaders in this House not only for months but for years have been unable to obtain from the Budget Office answers to questions concerning the finances of this Commonwealth that should be an open book. We resent the secrecy practiced by the Budget

Office. We believe that it has been an affront to the intelligence of this body and we therefore will thoroughly examine the product which the Budget Office has produced.

We will request that prior to the time the date is set for the final introduction of bills every opportunity be afforded to discharge Committees from such matters as we believe should have been brought to the attention of this House. And we will in all matters cooperate to the end that we may wind up the session for once in an orderly, dignified fashion.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS HOUSE

Mr. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, I must take exception to the gentleman's remarks when he speaks about the Budget Office. I have never had anything hidden from me in any request I have made from it. I believe they have given me reasonable and sufficient answers.

I also believe that the report published by the Budget Office within the last two weeks certainly has proven that the Budget Office is only off in an amount, which in comparison is very small in a budget this size.

I would also like to assure the gentleman, and I think he will agree with me, that in the last few sessions we have not been in any hurry; that we have not pushed legislation through without knowing what we voted upon, and that we have been very fair in giving the minority every chance they desired to discharge Committees, or to complete any other legislative procedure. I can assure him that we intend to do that at this time.

After sitting here for the length of time we have, I personally can see no reason why we should hurry, and permit necessary legislation to die in the hopper. I can see no reason to hurry and force through a lot of legislation. We do not intend to do it, and I know the entire majority does not intend to do it. I think I can assure him that there will be no sine die resolution offered until the business of this House has been completed in an orderly and regular fashion.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire the privilege of interrogating the Majority Leader.

The SPEAKER pro tempore. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SMITH. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. In his touching defense of the budget office, was the Majority Leader stating an official position or a personal and private conviction?

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, I was stating a personal and private conviction and also an official opinion.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman. That is the extent of the inquiry.

Might I state that I can give personal testimony to the effect that I have sat in Committees where I have heard leaders of this House express their regret that the result of their questioning of the Budget Office lead simply to increased confusion upon their part.

I would not embarrass any Member of this House, particularly any member of the majority by citing one by one, which I could do, the names of the leaders in this House who have voiced complaints and criticisms to me personally concerning the manner in which the Budget

Office failed to come clean with information concerning the financial operations of this Commonwealth.

If the Majority Leader sometime, upon some other occasion, insists that I come, maybe, before a committee, or before the House and name all the critics of the budget department who are Members of this Assembly, I might do it.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. SNIDER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this House do now adjourn until Monday, June 18, 1951 at 3:30 p. m. EST.

The motion was agreed to, and (at 10:12 a. m. EST) the House adjourned.

SENATE

MONDAY, June 18, 1951.

The Senate met at 2:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Lloyd H. Wood) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. FRANCIS E. REINBERGER, Pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, Camp Hill, Pennsylvania, offered the following prayer:

It is remarkable, O God, how little we can see when we remove ourselves from the light of Thy truth. Wilt Thou this day touch our eyes with clearness, and set before us distinctly the world and its problems as they really are. Let us get behind the illusions of personal desire and behold the reality of corporate blessedness and prosperity which is Thy purpose for us.

Strengthen us by a spirit of inner devotion, so that our concern for the well-being of our Commonwealth may never lag, but may grow ever stronger as we feel the power of Thy presence. Be with us now to guide our steps and direct our thoughts unto Thy Holy Name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. WALKER and Mr. CROWE, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

PETITIONS AND REMONSTRANCES

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, gentlemen of the Senate, any further delays on Senate Bill No. 424, known as the Animal Experimentation Bill will be tantamount to its strangulation.

Once again members of the General Assembly and citizens of the Commonwealth are being subjected to fanatical threats by misguided zealots, and conniving promoters who want to prevent stray and unwanted animals from being turned over to scientists to be used for medical research.

The work of these antivivisectionists is again falling into the familiar pattern of telling a big lie and telling it often. These pathetic individuals would have normal, intelligent people believe that their campaign of hate is directed toward saving poor little creatures from a fate that in reality does not exist. Their bloodthirsty campaign do, however, serve as a wonderful opportunity to swell the antivivisectionist's coffers thereby assuring the promoters of a continued and comfortable existence off of the well meaning people they have fooled.

Now, once and for all, let's get the record straight:

First of all, it has been repeatedly proven that well over 80% of the public favors the use of animals in medical research. The antivivisectionists represent less than 10% of the general population, yet with the Hearst press serving as a megaphone, their clamor is magnified way out of proportion to their actual number.

Next, let's get it on record that the circulars depicting animal torture and the a. v.'s so-called authorities are about as bogus as is possible and still remain inside the law. For example, here in Pennsylvania there has been some reaction noted following the circulation of a so-called "report" by Josephine Rutson. The "Rutson Report" is a fraud. Mrs. Rutson is not a laboratory "investigator" for Dr. Bundesen's advisory Committee. Furthermore, Mrs. Rutson's investigations have not been reported to Dr. Bundesen's committee. The photographs which Mrs. Rutson uses to lend the impression of authenticity to her "report" are typical of photographs distributed for years by the antivivisectionists. She deliberately avoids giving captions as to the what, when and where of the photos. Her affidavit is not made to the photographs. As a matter of fact, the photos are obviously pictures of dead dogs and could have been taken anywhere—even at animal shelters! It is pleasant indeed to report that legal action has been filed in Chicago against Mrs. Rutson by the principals mentioned in her "report."

No statement of cruelty circulated by the antivivisectionists ever stands up when it is investigated. Their circulars and propaganda are disgraceful attempts to hoodwink the public into slowing or stopping medical science in its fight to conquer disease. They must never again be allowed to win a skirmish in their fight against the public health.

Bearing in mind the true nature of this highly vocal cult, let's look closely at the provisions of the bill they attack so bitterly. First of all, let us remember that, there are no regulatory measures at this time in Pennsylvania under which animal research must be performed. The animal research bill now pending before this legislature will simply enact such regulations and provide an adequate supply of unwanted animals to continue critical research. The bill does nothing else.

This aid-to-research bill will require institutions using animals to be licensed by the Secretary of Health. It will provide that laboratory animals be properly fed, suitably housed and in the case of involving pain, adequate anesthesia must be used. It will provide for inspection of the laboratories to make sure that protective regulations are complied with. It provides for prosecution of those who violate the rules. By granting the Secretary of Health power to allocate unwanted, unclaimed and unlicensed impounded animals from those pounds maintained by public tax funds the bill offers the greatest possible protection to pet owners by eliminating any market for possibly stolen pets. That is all the bill does, nothing more. Is there anything therein that can possibly, even by the wildest stretch of the imagination, be construed as objectionable? Of course not.

Therefore, let us turn our backs on the a. v.'s and their fellow-travelers and without further delay enact this pending legislation. Let us remind the Humane Societies that while this bill does not affect their operation in any way whatsoever, that their membership benefits as much as anyone by this measure and that their opposition, where it exists, is inconsistent with their basic principles. Above all, let us remind each other that the wonder drugs and new surgical procedures that do so much for us when we are ill are almost without exception the result of animal investigation. It is up to every one of us to do everything we can to assist science in its fight against disease. The antivivisectionists, in their opposition to this measure, have failed to produce one reputable health organization that backs them in fighting this bill. On the other hand, the Department of Health of this Commonwealth has joined with the organizations responsible for safeguarding the public health in urging an enactment of this legislation. Among those organizations, we find The Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania, the Pennsylvania Heart Association, the Pennsylvania Society for Crippled Children, the Pennsylvania State Veterinary Medical Association, the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis Society, the Pennsylvania State Dental Society, the Pennsylvania Hospital Association, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, the American Cancer Society, the American Diabetes Association, and the Health and Welfare Councils of both Philadelphia and Allegheny County. These organizations and their memberships are most certainly qualified to cite the need of this legislation in our great State. We must heed their wishes, for by their very nature it would be foolish to question them as their conduct and interest in health bring their action above reproach. However, the need for this legislation goes beyond civilian health. To retard or handicap medical research in any way at this time represents a serious danger to our Military Forces and to the Civilian Defense program.

Dr. Shields Warren, Director of the Division of Biology and Medicine, of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission, has informed Governor Fine and Dr. Teague of the pressing need for experimental animals to cope with the problem of radiation burns in event of an atomic bombing. The following is the message received from the Atomic Energy Commission:

"The Atomic Energy Commission has contracted with qualified medical investigators in the State of Pennsylvania and elsewhere to conduct research in the fields of atomic energy related to the protection of human beings against the harmful effects of atomic radiation. It is important to the successful prosecution of this work that a steady supply of dogs and other experimental animals be made readily available to these investigators. Promising therapeutic measures for the treatment of injury from atomic radiation which have been developed on smaller animals such as rats and mice cannot generally be adapted to the treatment of radiation sickness in human beings without first having been studied thoroughly in larger animals whose general constitution and physiological makeup more closely resemble that of man. For this purpose the Atomic Energy Commission investigators in Pennsylvania have an urgent need for animals such as dogs." Shields Warren has also been joined by Rear Admiral H. Lamont Pugh, Surgeon General of the United States Navy, in supporting the use of animals in laboratory investigations of causes and cures for disease. Admiral Pugh stated:

"If any restrictions offered by well-meaning but misguided persons are effected, the Navy and all its personnel cannot be given the medical care which a grateful nation expects.

The purpose of the Medical Department of the United States Navy is to prevent diseases and injury of the men and women of the fleet and of the Marine Corps, to adopt modern methods of treatment of casualties and illness and to cooperate with the other Armed Services, the U. S. Public Health Service and numerous governmental and private agencies both here and abroad. The success of treatment of battle casualties in Korea and of prevention of the spread of communicable diseases among soldiers, sailors, and marines is a lasting tribute to medical research.

How are we to learn about the treatment of battle wounds afloat and ashore, of dangers in submarine operations and of flight, of diving and escape from underwater hazards, of spread of infectious diseases, of types of warfare in addition to the use of missiles and explosives, including atomic warfare, if we cannot use all possible methods of study?

The Navy uses laboratory and clinical investigations in the solution of its many medical problems, and it depends in great measure on the use of animals, from mice to dogs and larger animals. Neither the Navy nor any other scientific group would undertake studies on human subjects without previous careful and precise experiments on lower animals. And these animals must be available in sufficient number and variety if the Naval personnel is to be satisfactorily and adequately protected. The research workers of the Navy fulfill every requirement of prevention of pain with humane management of the experiments."

There is no need for any of us to look further in an attempt to decide where we must stand on this bill. The facts speak for themselves. It is our duty as elected representatives to act in the best interests of those we represent. We will be failing our solemn obligations if we do not take appropriate action forthwith. I urge that we delay no longer in this matter. I ask that the animal research bill be reported out of Committee, passed by this General Assembly and sent to the Governor immediately.

one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 1293) is hereby further amended to read as follows
Section 1103 Powers of Local Authorities

* * * * *

(b) Local authorities in cities of the first class second class second class A and third class townships of the first class and boroughs in their respective jurisdictions shall have the authority to provide by ordinance for the removal and impounding of any vehicle parked on the streets highways or public property of such city in violation of any local ordinance adopted pursuant to the authority of this act or of any of the provisions of this act

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I wish to be recorded as voting "no," because this bill gives first class townships the right to impound vehicles and remove them when they are parked illegally. I know that cities and boroughs now have that right, but counties of the first class, in most instances, are great territories and they comprise many miles of roadways; an automobile could be moved as far as twenty-three or twenty-four miles across the county, and a person seeking that automobile, who perhaps for a few minutes, through no fault of his own, has over-parked in an illegal parking place, he might be seeking his automobile for two or three days. I think there are some cases where we must draw the line. If that is right for first class townships, it is right for second class townships, and I do not think any person here appreciates exactly the problem of a motorist who inadvertently finds himself illegally parked.

Mr. President, I desire to be recorded as voting "no."

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL ON THIRD READING

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 563, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Treasury Department out of various funds to pay replacement checks issued in lieu of outstanding checks when presented and to adjust errors.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

REQUEST THAT BILL GO OVER IN ORDER

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 563, on third reading, go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I ask that Senate Bill No. 563, Printer's No. 349, go over in order.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I have no objection. I would like to suggest to the gentleman that we have to replace those checks and this does not affect the budget in any way.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, before we pass this bill, in my opinion, we ought to have some statistics which I would like to get from the State Treasurer tomorrow. It seems to me that this bill—if I am mistaken you tell me—is an appropriation to take care of writing replacement checks, and if I am correct you can do this job for very much less than the bill calls for. I understand that the appropriation here is in the amount of about $160,000. As a matter of fact, there is one item of $100,000 to write replacement checks in connection with the soldiers' bonus.

Mr. President, from what I know, based on my experience, for writing all replacement checks that are named in this bill, I say that you can do it for $25,000 for the whole two-year period and not $160,000, and I will prove that if you will just put this over for one day to let me get some statistics.

Mr. WALKER. For that amount of money, Mr. President, I will agree.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 563, on third reading go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair would like to direct the Senator's attention to the fact that he is asking to interrogate the sponsor after the roll has been called.

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I asked if there was any objection to my interrogating one of the sponsors of the bill before I cast my vote.

The PRESIDENT. Is there any objection?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, under the rules of the Senate, there is nothing before the Senate at this time but the announcement of the roll call. Either before or after the roll call, the gentleman is entirely within his prerogative to interrogate any of the gentlemen of the Senate, but during the roll call and until the roll has been announced, the only purpose for which the gentleman can be recognized, under the rules of the Senate, would be to make an official inquiry as to how he is recorded or to change his vote.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator yield until after the roll call has been announced?

INTERROGATION

Mr. YOSKO. Mr. President, I wonder if one of the sponsors of Senate Bill 611 would permit himself to be interrogated?

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Blair, Senator Mallery, submit himself to the interrogation?

Mr. MALLERY. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. YOSKO. Senator Mallery, I would like to know what the Bureau of Highway Patrol and Safety, in the Department of Revenue, is not doing or could not do that this bill would empower somebody to do that is named in the bill?

Mr. MALLERY. It does not interfere with any safety activity being conducted in any department of the Commonwealth, Senator.

Mr. YOSKO. Does this bill create a new department or a new bureau?

Mr. MALLERY. Yes, and it is not dissimilar or unlike what is being done in many other states in the Union, notably the state of Michigan, but the appropriation made to the commission in Michigan is upwards of $200,000 as contrasted with the appropriation in this bill.

Now, I think the various departments are doing a splendid job in this State, and I doubt whether safety activities are being promoted better in any state. I think we are doing a wonderful job, and when we read the preamble to this bill, there is an indication that we cannot do too much along that line.

Mr. YOSKO. You say, Senator, that the Bureau of Highway Patrol and Safety, in the Department of Revenue, is doing a good job so far as safety is concerned; I am in agreement with that and that is true. Why do we have to set up a—

Mr. MALLERY. If the Senator will read this bill, he will see that this bill pertains not only to safety on the highways but on the farm and in the home. More accidents are caused in the home, so statistics inform us, than accidents on the highways.

Mr. YOSKO. Thank you.

BILL ON SECOND READING AMENDED

Agreeably to order.

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 702, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the fourth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-seven (P. L. 519) entitled "An act concerning boroughs and revising amending and consolidating the law relating to boroughs" by further regulating the affairs of boroughs and revising amending and changing the law relating thereto

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. PECHAN offered the following amendments:

Amend Sec. 1, (Sec. 1155), page 25, line 12, by striking out the word "either"; Amend Sec. 1, (Sec. 1155), page 25, line 12, by striking out the words "or bituminous"; Amend Sec. 1, (Sec. 1160), page 26, line 1, by striking out the words "or bituminous".

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendments?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Armstrong, Senator Pechan.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Pechan, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. PECHAN. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I would like to ask the gentleman from Armstrong just what these amendments do.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, they just take out the word "bituminous" in section 1155, on page 25, line 12.

Mr. LANE. Senator Pechan, do you realize when you strike out the word "bituminous" that you are working an extreme hardship on the taxpayers of western Pennsylvania by permitting certain coal operators to remove supports from under public buildings without compensating them in any manner whatsoever?

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I do not think that is true.

Mr. LANE. If you read section 1160, with regard to surface supports, and you are striking out the word "bituminous," you are removing that provision which protects the taxpayers in the bituminous areas. Is that not true?

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, I yield to the Majority Floor Leader, Senator Walker.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, could I ask the gentleman from Washington if he would transfer his attention and his questions, and I will try to answer them to the best of my ability?

Mr. LANE. Senator Walker, when you strike out the word "bituminous" on page 25, don't you believe that by taking that word out of there we are jeopardizing the interests of the taxpayers in our boroughs?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I do not think so. If I might explain to the gentleman from Washington, there is no doubt that this is a controversial question as to whether or not coal companies in the bituminous fields should be required to leave in the municipal limits of a political subdivision the coal that underlies the surface strata.

Now, Mr. President, some of the boroughs, for example, may extend hundred of acres in area and if the coal companies in the bituminous areas are required to leave the coal in place, they could not even put a shaft through those areas to get to the coal in the fields that they might have beyond the political subdivision. As a result, there would be hundreds of acres of coal that the coal companies purchased years ago that they have been paying taxes on; they would like to get to it to mine it and are obliged to leave it there without any compensation whatsoever.

Mr. President, the Federal Constitution is still in full force and effect, and there is a provision in the Federal Constitution, I am advised by lawyers, relating to the taking of property without due process of law. Now, Mr. President, I am further advised by very competent counsel from Philadelphia that this would be taking property without due process of law. The question, of course, of paying for the coal has never been introduced in the bill, and if I might use as an example the little town in which I live, if there was coal underlying the Borough of Oakmont, and if Oakmont was obliged to reimburse the coal company for the coal that was under the borough within the borough limits in order to prevent it from being removed, it would be financially impossible for the borough to do that.

Now, there has not been a meeting of minds between borough officials and the coal industry in the western end of Pennsylvania where the bituminous field exists, and, therefore, inasmuch the bituminous coal has been mined for generations without this and there has never been too much complaint in the bituminous field over subsidence of surface, I think that this is unfair.

Now, Mr. President, I would like to say to the gentleman from Washington, when this bill was before the Local Government Commission this particular part of the bill was not approved by the Commission as a result of this study. It was inserted in the bill, as I understand it, in the House.

Now, Mr. President, the thing is this. There has been some surface sinking in the various spots in the bituminous field where abandoned coal mines had been re-leased to speculators who were pulling the stumps and the pillars, and we had a situation somewhat comparable to the situation in New Kensington, in Senator Dent's home county, but this thing would not be fair to the bituminous field. It was not approved by the Local Government Commission, it is taking property without due process of law, and there is no provision in the bill to permit the coal companies to be reimbursed for the coal.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I thank the gentleman for his wonderful speech.

Mr. WALKER. Does that answer your question?

Mr. LANE. It should, Mr. President.

Mr. WALKER. I mean, if there is anything I left out, I would be glad to explain further.

Mr. LANE. Thank you very much.

Mr. President, if the Members of the Senate will look on page 25 of this piece of legislation, you will note that anthracite coal was included in the borough code. Now, they talk about the constitutionality of this legislation. Maybe the Constitution does not apply to the anthracite region.

Mr. President, in my opinion this piece of legislation permits coal operators to remove from beneath public buildings, streets, alleys and places in boroughs the supports. Now, naturally, when you are removing that support you are confronted with the danger of mine subsidence, and when that occurs there is a cost to the taxpayers which should not be borne by them.

Mr. President, I happen to be a member of the Local Government Committee and the Committee approved this bill in its present form, because I had the privilege of reporting it out on the floor. It seems to me that we should take into consideration the fact that in western Pennsylvania we have a bituminous area whereby some of the large operators have not abused that privilege, but where they sold to small operators, and they have gone in there and removed the stumps and caused mine subsidence in our boroughs. It has hurt our roads, and in one particular case it has cracked a portion of the City Hall, and we have no recourse. Mr. President, I want you to distinctly and studiously listen to what I say when I read section 1160 of this code. On page 25, it says:

"Certain Surface Supports Not to Be Removed. It shall be unlawful for any person copartnership association or corporation to dig mine remove or carry away the coal rock earth or other minerals or materials forming the natural support of the surface beneath the public highways streets alleys courts and places of any borough in the anthracite or bituminous region to such an extent and in such a manner as to thereby remove the necessary support of the surface without having first placed or constructed an artificial permanent support—remember that—sufficient to uphold and preserve the stability of the surfaces of such public highways streets alleys courts and places"

Mr. President, I do not believe that is very discriminatory because the coal operators have the right to remove that coal. All we ask is that they place a support in there.

Senator Dent has amendments which he is going to offer, which will set up a board of viewers to view the cost of that coal and place a price upon it, and I will agree to those amendments. I think it is right to pay for any coal that is kept under there, but I do not believe we should arbitrarily endanger the property of the taxpayers by accepting these amendments. This is not a partisan issue. Every man in the bituminous area should take into consideration that if we go through with this, we endanger every public building and every borough in western Pennsylvania.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I appreciate what the gentleman from Washington said, but may I suggest to him that the issue involved in the discussion which he is presenting should be not placed in jeopardizing the bill that is before us. The Local Government Commission, which sponsored this bill and which studied the problem of the borough code, has had a unique record of never sponsoring or presenting to the General Assembly controversial measures. They have worked it out in study and they have done a remarkable job over the years as far as legislation affecting political subdivisions in various stratas are concerned.

Now, the problem involved here, Senator Lane, should be encompassed in a separate bill so that the issue can be met head-on and not in a collateral bill of this type. That was the earnest recommendation of all of the Members of the Local Government Commission. That is why they were particularly concerned about this. That is why they did not want it in the bill. I have no quarrel with the discussion the gentleman has made with regard to surface support in the bituminous field, but I think we should meet that in a bill particularly directed toward that specific problem and not have it in this bill here.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I am very much interested in the passage of this piece of legislation because I have given it a lot of study, and I think it is a very meritorious bill. However, as I pointed out to the distinguished Majority Leader, we have agreed—I have, rather, with Senator Dent—to accept his amendments which will provide that a board of viewers be set up, and in the event that the coal is left under these public buildings, these political subdivisions should pay for the coal. So, if you knock out this whole section here, I wonder sometimes whether or not it is the right thing to do because it has applied to the anthracite region for a number of years, and it has been in the code and it is now exempt in the bituminous areas. There seems to be considerable objection.

You understand, Mr. President, I am not criticizing the coal companies. Most of the coal companies in western Pennsylvania have done a splendid job of protecting the taxpayers' property because they realize that in the event they damage it, they are going to be assessed, and that they are going to have to compensate and put in their share to compensate the taxpayers for the damage that occurred, but I am speaking of those operators that go in there and buy abandoned workings and grab everything they can, and pull stumps and cause considerable damage to the surface. I suggest that the Senator from Armstrong withdraw his amendments until such time as we consider the amendments of Senator Dent, which I believe will answer the question.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I do not want to get into this debate except to say there are angles to this piece of legislation that have not been touched upon.

Now, Senator Walker is absolutely right in one phase of his discussion, that this ought to be a separate bill and it ought not to cover boroughs. It ought to cover the entire gamut of municipalities and municipal governments. What is the difference between a public building being undermined in a borough and a public building being undermined in a township? What is the difference between it being a public building and a private home? I know of a condition where a church is being undermined at the present moment. A church to my mind is more of a public building than a building that is used for public purposes.

Mr. President, I think the question is one that ought to be resolved by having a separate piece of legislation designed to correct, if any, the evils in that particular field. I, too, come from a bituminous coal field, and I want to say that perhaps there have been some instances where buildings have collapsed, public buildings, or have been damaged by undermining. I do not know of any, and we have mined our county almost to the last ounce of coal. Our conditions out there now are such that we have not too much coal mining left.

I do believe this, that if this amendment falls, I want to introduce amendments to at least make it possible to pay for the coal. In most instances, if a community builds a community property over the top of a coal field, they knew they were doing it because they bought that territory or reserved that territory with the understanding that the coal was sold out from under it most of the instances. I believe I am right when I say this, that in the vast majority of instances every municipality has reserved the coal under its public buildings. I know that we do not mine any coal under the City of Greensburg, and I think it is one of the best deposits of coal in the region—if you could get out that coal you would become a millionaire over night—but the situation is such that they reserve the coal under those particular areas, and I do not care whether it is the coal interest or any other interest that is involved. If this is a problem of the magnitude Mr. Lane says it is, and I think he knows what he is talking about, I think then there should be a piece of legislation to cover not only public but private buildings. In many instances, the damage to a home is of a more severe nature than that to a public building, and if we are going to put in a piece of legislation, let us put it in covering all property on top of mined out areas. That is the only answer to the problem. I intend to vote for this amendment.

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I appreciate the words of wisdom by our distinguished Minority Leader. However, Mr. President, I believe that this amendment is in the Third Class City Code. That applies to third class cities, and I am just trying to make it apply to boroughs. I am not criticizing the statement made by the Minority Leader, and for your information, Mr. President, I have sponsored this type of legislation Session after Session, and we cannot seem to move it out of committee. There is a great danger, especially now when they are removing the stumps in the bituminous areas, from mine subsidence. It is going to destroy lots of property, homes, churches, public buildings, and I think we have to pass legislation of some sort to protect us.

Now, if the distinguished Minority Leader and Majority Leader will join with me in sponsoring this legislation to protect the property owners of the Commonwealth, I will withdraw all my arguments, but I believe the time has come when we have to do something. If we have to pass a law, we should pass it at this Session. I agree with the statements that were made here, but I believe this is a safeguard. I believe if we keep this in this piece of legislation, it will protect the public properties and may be later on we can get around to making some sort of an agreement whereby we can pass legislation to protect the property owners that own the surface where the bituminous area is located.

Now, Mr. President, there was a statement made there in regard to persons being conscious of the fact that there was coal underlying the strata that they purchased. That may be true, but, Mr. President, for your information, in western Pennsylvania the coal was purchased back there eighty and ninety years ago, and the people built their homes and constructed their public buildings not with the idea of it ever seeping in or mine subsidence. It is a new thing in the western part of the State—it is not exactly new, but it has occurred in the last five or ten years. I realize that the anthracite region had that problem, and I am in sympathy with it. However, we must do something in our bituminous areas.

Mr. President, if the Floor Leaders will agree with me and join with me in sponsoring this legislation, I will withdraw my objection altogether, but I have no assurance that we will get it passed. So, I am in the position that I must ask the Members of this Senate to vote down the amendments which were submitted by the Senator from Armstrong, Senator Pechan.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, may I interrogate the gentleman from Washington, Senator Lane?

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Lane, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LANE. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I would like to ask the gentleman from Washington, is he under the impression that getting Dent and Walker on the bill would help?

Mr. LANE. That is a matter of conjecture. That is why I said I had no assurance it would be passed.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, the honor isn't dead altogether. I will co-sponsor with you any bill to protect all properties.

The PRESIDENT. Is there a motion to adopt the amendment?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I was under the impression when the amendment was presented by Senator Pechan that he moved the adoption of the amendment.

The PRESIDENT. I think under the Rules of the Senate, without objection, amendments offered by a member may be adopted without objection. Now, we have objection.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, the bill was moved back to second reading and the objection certainly is out of order. The bill is on second reading, and any Member of the Senate objecting must get a majority of the membership to go with him because the one objection on third reading would block the amendments, but one objection on second reading certainly would not block the amendments. The question now is whether or not the amendments to this bill on second reading should be adopted. I understood that the gentleman from Armstrong had so moved.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, I rise on a point of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming will state his point of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. President, do I understand that there will not be a roll call vote on these amendments?

The PRESIDENT. That is correct.

Mr. FLEMING. There will not be?

The PRESIDENT. There may be eventually. I cannot predict that.

Mr. FLEMING. Will the Chair advise me, please, how we can secure a roll call vote?

The PRESIDENT. When an objection is made to the adoption of an amendment, a motion must be made and it must be duly seconded, and then we take a vote on that motion.

Mr. FLEMING. The responsibility for the motion is on the person offering the amendment. Is that correct, sir?

The PRESIDENT. That is correct. The Chair so rules.

Mr. PECHAN. Mr. President, if there is any question as to whether the motion was properly made, I move that the amendments just offered to Senate Bill No. 702 be adopted.

Mr. WALKER. I second the motion, Mr. President.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. LANE. Mr. President, I ask for a roll call on the motion.

Mr. FLEMING. I second the motion, Mr. President.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. LANE and Mr. FLEMING and were as follows, viz:

MOTION TO SUSPEND RULES

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I offer a resolution and move the suspension of Rules 14 and 84 for the specific purpose of permitting the immediate consideration of the resolution.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The SPEAKER. The resolution will be read by the Clerk for the information of the House.

The Clerk read the resolution as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 18, 1951.

Whereas, an apparently irreconcilable difference of opinion has arisen between various members of the General Assembly and the Budget Secretary concerning the revenue which will be obtained from various tax proposals, and

Whereas, this difference of opinion is apparently one that only time can resolve, and

Whereas, the pending session of the General Assembly is being prolonged by reason of conflicting views concerning the Commonwealth's fiscal problems, and

Whereas, the pending legislative deadlock would lose its significance if the Commonwealth were operating on the basis of an annual budget; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Governor of the Commonwealth be requested to furnish the General Assembly with an opinion as to whether the barriers against the enactment of an annual budget are inherent in the Constitution or are present in the Administrative Code, which is subject to amendment, and

Be it Further Resolved, that if the barriers against the enactment of an annual budget are not inherent in the Constitution, that it is the sense of this House that the General Assembly proceed to make whatever amendments to the Administrative Code as may be necessary in order to justify an annual budget, proceed to finance the essential operations of the Commonwealth for the fiscal year beginning June 1, 1951 and then adjourn sine die—subject to a special session call of the Governor of the Commonwealth at such time in 1952 as His Excellency, the Governor, may deem expedient.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I realize that the question before the House is the suspension of the Rules. I would crave the privilege, however, of saying a few words concerning the resolution itself—

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. ANDREWS—because in substance a vote against suspending the Rules is by way of being a negative vote as far as the resolution itself is concerned.

We point out in the resolution that the present deadlock is the result of a difference of opinion concerning the amount of revenue that various types of proposals will raise. We point out in the resolution that this difference of opinion is one that can only be resolved by the passage of time. The future will prove who is right or wrong.

The resolution also points out that were we operating on the basis of an annual budget the present deadlock would be a matter of small consequence, because we could finance for one year—and we have done that—and take up the ball a year from now.

The question arises as to whether financing the Commonwealth on the basis of one year encounters a barrier that is inherent in the Constitution or whether it simply encounters a barrier that is a part of the Administrative Code.

We cannot here in this House amend or revise the Constitution; we can amend and revise the Administrative Code.

And so we are asking in this resolution that the Governor inform this House whether in his opinion financing the Commonwealth on the basis of a one year budget is forbidden by the terms of the Constitution, or whether the barrier is only the Administrative Code.

The resolution concludes by saying that if in the opinion of His Excellency the Governor the only barrier against financing the Commonwealth on a one year basis is the Administrative Code, then the sensible thing to do is to make the necessary amendments to the Administrative Code, pass other necessary legislation to permit the functioning of the essential activities of the Commonwealth and adjourn sine die, subject to a call for a special session in 1952, as the Governor of the Commonwealth may deem expedient.

Since I have been informed, Mr. Speaker, that the Majority Leader will probably find it inexpedient to follow this sensible, practical, effective course of action, and that the resolution may fall, I would therefore ask for a record roll call on the matter of suspending the rules.

Mr. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, ordinarily I would like to extend to the Minority Leader the courtesy of the suspension of the Rules. But in this case I do not believe that it is advisable; I do not believe it would be fair to the membership of this House.

I think this question is entirely too serious to be considered by any of us on short notice. The suspension of Rules in this case would evade the Rules Committee. I believe that this resolution should go to the Rules Committee for proper consideration. It will then be printed in the History of this House, every Member can read it and study it.

When I ask that this motion to suspend the Rules, be voted down, it is only to provide time for consideration of the resolution.

I would ask the members of this House to vote down this motion.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, all I ask is that the Members of this House who in all good conscience feel they have a major or minor grievance against the mausoleum committee, support my resolution, and that all those who welcome the embalming activities of the eminent statesmen who comprise the Rules Committee oppose the resolution.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Andrews and Mr. Lovett and were as follows:

class school districts of the third class and school districts of the fourth class to levy assess and collect or to provide for the levying assessment and collection of certain additional taxes subject to maximum limitation for general revenue purposes authorizing the establishment of bureaus and the appointment and compensation of officers and employees to assess and collect such taxes and permitting penalties to be imposed and enforced providing an appeal from the ordinance or resolution levying such taxes to the court of quarter sessions and to the Supreme Court and Superior Court" as added by the act approved the ninth day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-nine (P. L. 898) is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 * * * * *

E Limitations on Rates of Specific Taxes * * * * *

If at any time two political subdivisions shall impose any one of the above taxes on the same person subject business transaction or privilege located within both such political subdivisions during the same year or part of the same year under the authority of this act then the tax levied by a political subdivision under the authority of this act shall during the time such duplication of the tax exists except as hereinafter otherwise provided be one-half of the rate as above limited and such one-half rate shall become effective by virtue of the requirements of this act from the day such duplication becomes effective without any action on the part of the political subdivision imposing the tax under the authority of this act. When a tax has been levied under the provisions of this act by one political subdivision a subsequent levy by another political subdivision on the same person subject business transaction or privilege located within both political subdivisions shall not become effective until the day following the then current fiscal year of the political subdivision first levying such tax unless the political subdivision making such subsequent levy shall have given notice to the political subdivision making the first levy of its intention to make such levy thirty (30) days prior to the adoption of the budget of the political subdivision making the first levy. It is the intent and purpose of this provision to limit rates of taxes referred to in this subsection so that the entire burden of one tax on a person subject business transaction or privilege shall not exceed the limitations prescribed in this subsection. Provided however That any two political subdivisions which impose any one of the above taxes on the same person subject business transaction or privilege during the same year or part of the same year may agree among themselves that instead of limiting their respective rates to one-half of the maximum rate herein provided they will impose respectively different rates the total of which shall not exceed the maximum rate as above permitted.

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective on the second day of January one thousand nine hundred fifty-two

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NOT VOTING—1

Hall,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 732, entitled:

An Act to repeal the act approved the twenty-eighth day of July one thousand nine hundred forty-one (P. L. 535) entitled "An act providing for the redemption of real property purchased by political subdivisions at tax sales upon the payment of the amount charged against the same and costs by installment payments and prescribing the procedure therefor" in so far as it relates to counties of the fourth class and cities boroughs townships and school districts situate in such counties

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Blair.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Blair, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BLAIR. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I desire to know if the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Blair, is familiar with the provisions of the Act of 1941, P. L. 535?

Mr. BLAIR. Partially, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman some questions concerning the Act of 1941, P. L. 535. I desire to know first of all if this act deals with redemption of properties in all class counties?

Mr. BLAIR. Mr. Speaker, the Act of 1941 just partially did away with the county owned property act. The Act than of 1947 and 1949 affected just some counties, but fourth class counties were exempted entirely from this.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Now the Act of 1941 applies to all classes of counties does it not?

Mr. BLAIR. Not completely.

Mr. LOPRESTI. What class county is eliminated from the Act of 1941 which is subject to be repealed here?

Mr. BLAIR. That I cannot answer.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Does the gentleman know of any class county that is left out of the Act of 1941?

Mr. BLAIR. I do know that fourth class counties are not included in the present Act.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Does the gentleman mean that fourth class counties are not included under the provisions of the Act of 1941?

Mr. BLAIR. That is right.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Well then why are we passing a bill to exempt, or repeal, so far as fourth class counties are concerned?

Mr. BLAIR. I will attempt to explain that if the gentleman will grant me the time.

Mr. LOPRESTI. I yield to the gentleman, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti, yields to the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Blair.

Mr. BLAIR. Mr. Speaker, I would like to make just a few statements regarding this Act that we are speaking of and the violations, and the trouble that we are having in our fourth class county, which is Erie at the present time.

The Act of 1941, which provides for unlimited installment redemption of county-owned property, was partially repealed by the Act of 1947 and was completely repealed as to second class counties, cities, boroughs, townships and school districts by the Act of May 20th, 1949.

Erie County has been trying to have this Act repealed for the past several years. Now that it has been revealed as a very undesirable Act and has been substantially done away with by other counties and municipal subdivisions. We believe that it should be either completely repealed, or repealed as to fourth class counties such as Erie.

The fundamental trouble with the said Act is that a wealthy taxpayer in attempting to escape his just tax obligations can avoid payment of taxes for a great number of years and can absolutely prevent the liquidation of the property by the County Commissioners, so that it cannot be placed back on a tax paying basis. When thousands of vacant lots are involved, as is the case in Erie county, it is a very serious matter. To explain that a little further, just to cite one of several examples in Erie county, we have one property owner there that possesses and owns over two thousand pieces of real estate. He refuses to pay taxes on any of it. When the county takes over the lots, then they are forced into finding a buyer. When they find a buyer, they have to have the title searched and the county has to stand all the expense and the funny part of it is, when this lot is up for sale to a proposed buyer, the owner of the lot comes in and pays 20 percent, only 20 percent on the lot in question, and the Prothonotary's cost, the Court cost, the title search, everything, are all placed back upon the county. In the meantime it is taken off the tax rolls, and if that is fair to the taxpayers of the county then I certainly am wrong. In Erie county our books are filled with similar cases just like this.

Mr. LOPRESTI. Mr. Speaker, it becomes apparent that the gentleman from Erie, Mr. Blair is not familiar with the terms of the Act of 1941.

The Act of 1941, which is subject to being repealed by this present bill, provides that a former owner may enter into an agreement with the county, which agreement is prepared by the county solicitor. In that agreement the former owner agrees to pay one-fifth of the delinquent taxes together with the current taxes before they become delinquent, together with the costs involved up until that time.

He further agrees that each year thereafter, for a period of four years, the owner will pay twenty percent, plus the current taxes before they become delinquent. If that is not done under the agreement the property reverts,—not exactly reverts, because it is only a lease agreement in the beginning—but the county then can take possession of the property again. In other words, this bill allows the redemption by the former owner on a payment plan. It provides also that the payments must be made each year; even the current taxes must be paid before they become delinquent. Therefore it becomes impossible if the Act is complied with by the county of Erie, for any former owner to tie up the county for more than one additional year. Because if in the following year he does not pay the second installment together with the taxes for that year before they become delinquent, then the agreement is no longer in effect.

It is therefore impossible for a situation such as suggested by the gentleman from Erie to arise if the law is lived up to according to the terms of the Act of 1941.

I can see no reason personally why we should not allow former owners to redeem their properties on a payment plan, especially when the Act provides that the current taxes must be kept up to date before becoming delinquent.

I think the law was a good one when it was passed, and I do not know of any possible way of getting around the Act. I have gone over it very carefully and did so as late as this afternoon. If that agreement is drawn by the county solicitor as required by the act of 1941, then the dragging out, as the gentleman suggests, is an impossible thing.

I do not see the reason for the passage of this bill, which will repeal what was in 1941 good law and in my opinion still remains good law.

Mr. BLAIR. May I interrogate the gentleman from Cambria?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Lopresti, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. LOPRESTI. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BLAIR. Mr. Speaker, are all counties covered by the Act.

Mr. LOPRESTI. The Act of 1941 P. L. 535, covers all classes of counties. If there have been Acts exempting, or taking out certain counties I am not familiar with them, but the original Act covered all the counties of the state.

Mr. BLAIR. I am wondering why, Mr. Speaker, our county solicitor, our county commissioners are all unacquainted, you might say, or unfamiliar with this law. Because as of today in Erie county we have this situation going on, and this particular man that I speak of is paying twenty per cent on over two thousand pieces of real estate, and has been doing that for twenty years.

I am wondering why, if the Act covers fourth class counties he is able to continue doing that kind of business.

Mr. LOPRESTI. I do not follow the gentleman. The Act has only been in effect since 1941, and he states that someone has been paying installments for twenty years. I do not know how that is possible. Under this particular law it is not possible to be delinquent for more than five years, because you must keep your current taxes, along with your twenty percent, up to date each year.

The SPEAKER. Are there any objections to having this bill passed over to give the gentleman from Erie an opportunity to confer with the gentleman from Cambria?

Mr. BLAIR. Mr. Speaker, I will agree to having the bill passed over temporarily.

BILL PASSED OVER

The SPEAKER. If there are no objections, the Chair will withdraw its decision to the bill's having been agreed to on third reading, and the bill will be passed over. The Chair hears none.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 793, as follows:

An Act to further amend Section 12 of the act approved the eleventh day of July one thousand nine hundred seventeen (P. NOT VOTING—1

Hall,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1184, as follows:

An Act to amend the act approved the twenty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 349) entitled "An act requiring political subdivisions to refund taxes and license fees erroneously and inadvertently paid thereto and giving a right of action against such political subdivision for the recovery of such taxes and fees upon their failure to make such refunds making the provisions of the act retroactive and repealing existing laws" by requiring the refunding of and giving the right to recover such taxes and fees in every case where paid when or lawfully due and owing

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Sections one two and three of the act approved the twenty-first day of May one thousand nine hundred forty-three (P. L. 349) entitled "An act requiring political subdivisions to refund taxes and license fees erroneously and inadvertently paid thereto and giving a right of action against such political subdivision for the recovery of such taxes and fees upon their failure to make such refunds making the provisions of the act retroactive and repealing existing laws" are hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 Whenever any person or corporation of this Commonwealth has [erroneously or inadvertently] paid or caused to be paid into the treasury of any political subdivision directly or indirectly any tax or taxes [on real or personal property] of any kind or character or any license fee or fees [under an assumption that such taxes or license fees were due and owing] when in fact such taxes or license fees or a part thereof were not lawfully due and owing to the political subdivision then in such cases the authorities of the political subdivision upon due proof of any such [erroneous or inadvertent] tax or license fee payments are hereby directed to draw their warrant on the treasurer of such political subdivision in favor of such person or corporation to make refund out of the public funds of such tax or taxes or license fee or fees to which the political subdivision has no valid claim [Provided however That no such refund shall be made sooner than the first day of September one thousand nine hundred forty-four]

The provisions of this act shall be construed to include taxes paid upon real estate assessments which erroneously contained buildings which had been previously destroyed or torn down but whose destruction was not noted by the assessors and was included in the assessment

Section 2 In the event of refusal or failure on the part of authorities of the political subdivision involved to make any such refund of taxes or fees so [erroneously] paid into the treasury thereof then the aggrieved person or corporation shall have the right to recover the sum involved by instituting an action in assumpsit in any court of competent jurisdiction within the county wherein such political subdivision is located. For the purpose of determining the time during which such action may be commenced the taxes or fees so paid shall be deemed to be a simple debt owing by the political subdivision and the cause of action of the aggrieved person or corporation shall be deemed to arise at the expiration of six months after making demand in writing of the authorities of such political subdivision for the refund of such taxes or fees or upon receipt of written notice from the authorities of such political subdivision rejecting such demand for refund whichever first occurs.

Section 3 The provisions of this act shall be not only prospective but also retroactive and shall be effective as to any and all taxes and fees [heretofore erroneously or inadvertently] paid into the treasury of any political subdivision [for a period of not exceeding] within three years prior to [the discovery] a demand in writing for the refund of such [erroneously paid] taxes and fees and shall apply in all cases notwithstanding the existence of or prior recourse to any other available remedy to contest the validity or the imposition of said tax or otherwise.

Section 2 The provisions of this act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. KENT. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the third reading postponed calendar.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, may I have the privilege of interrogating the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Kent.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Crawford, Mr. Kent, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KENT. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the question arose in caucus as to just what the purpose of this bill was, how it would operate, who and what would be entitled to refunds?

In order to clarify the thinking of the minority regarding this bill—it will be on the postponed calendar and may be called—would the gentleman please explain his bill in a bit of detail?

The SPEAKER. Does the Chair understand that the gentleman from Cambria requests that when the bill is called, it be explained in detail?

Mr. ANDREWS. No, Mr. Speaker, explain the details now so that there will not be occasion for so much discussion in caucus concerning it.

Mr. KENT. Mr. Speaker, under the provisions of this bill, any tax that was paid by any taxpayer which was paid erroneously, inadvertently, illegally, or was paid in payment of an illegal tax, this bill would authorize and provide that that tax be refunded to the taxpayer.

There is a provision in the law now, the Act which this bill amends, which permits the refund of taxes which have been paid erroneously or inadvertently; and that has been interpreted by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania as meaning just what it says: that a tax paid under a mistake of some sort, a mistake of fact, if it is paid knowingly or under protest, the law now does not provide that that can be refunded.

There are instances where a person may be assessed and receive a tax bill with which he would not agree; he would think he was assessed too much. However, if he paid the tax under protest and the thing was finally decided in his favor later on, according to the Supreme Court, there is no authority for the taxing municipality to refund the tax.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Crawford hold that a tax can be illegal prior to the time that the Supreme Court has declared it unconstitutional? As long as it is on the statute books unquestioned, is it not a legal tax? Are not the payments made legally and they only become illegal when the Supreme Court says so?

Mr. KENT. I think, Mr. Speaker, that the Supreme Court is the court of last resort in Pennsylvania and when they say a tax is illegal, it is illegal. I may disagree with them but they have the last word.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1237, as follows:

An Act to amend section 1 of the act approved the sixth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 1557) entitled "An act premitting the sale of mortgaged real estate under a judgment upon the bond accompanying such mortgage to be made by the sheriff upon a writ of fieri facias without inquisition and without any other writ" by extending the provisions thereof to promissory notes accompanying mortgages.

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows:

Section 1 Section 1 of the act approved the sixth day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 1557) entitled "An act permitting the sale of mortgaged real estate under a judgment upon the bond accompanying such mortgage to be made by the sheriff upon a writ of fieri facias without inquisition and without any other writ" is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 1 Be it enacted &c That no inquisition shall be necessary in connection with the sale of real estate by the sheriff upon a writ of fieri facias issued upon a judgment entered upon a bond or promissory note accompanying a mortgage secured upon the real estate to be sold and the sheriff may after giving notice in the manner now provided by law in cases of sales under writs of venditioni exponas proceed to sell such real estate upon the said writ of fieri facias without any other writ whatever.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

SENATE

TUESDAY, June 19, 1951

The Senate met at 2:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore (M. Harvey Taylor) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. FRANCIS E. REINBERGER, Pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, Camp Hill, Pennsylvania, offered the following prayer:

Thank you, Father, for this moment of silence. It is well for us to pause in the midst of life's wild rush to seek new strength and new hope. Perhaps we should do it more often.

Help us in this moment to look deep within ourselves to discover what is really there; the dream of a more satisfying life, the hope for power to serve Thee and Thy people, the fear of final loneliness. In this moment make us conscious of the great crowd of men whose spirits surround us in this place, who were most concerned with the expenditure of themselves that this land we love might grow in strength and wisdom.

Lord, we cast our vote for Thee; govern us by Thy good pleasure. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

GENERAL COMMUNICATION

The CHAIR cleared his table and laid before the Senate the following communication which was read by the Clerk:

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA DEPARTMENT OF PROPERTY AND SUPPLIES HARRISBURG

Office of the Secretary

June 15, 1951.

Honorable G. Harold Watkins
Secretary, Senate of Pennsylvania
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania

Dear Senator Watkins:

In accordance with a resolution adopted by the Senate of Pennsylvania, on May 23, 1951, I have explored "the availability of a suitable parcel of land or old building along the proposed Independence Hall Mall, or Independence National Historical Park, that would be suitable for the erection of a State Office Building." As requested, I am submitting herewith a report covering a "preliminary survey."

The creation of Independence Hall Mall and Independence National Historical Park will indeed eliminate dilapidated structures in the areas directly affected. The survey, however, has failed to indicate that old run-down buildings located near these park areas are likely to be replaced by substantial business structures.

The Mall is located east of the City Hall at a distance of about nine full city blocks, between Fifth and Sixth Streets, north of Chestnut Street and extending to Race Street. For a number of reasons the surrounding area would be undesirable.

Market Street is a double car line street with traffic traveling east and west; Chestnut Street is a single car line street with traffic traveling east; north bound traffic on Fifth Street; south bound traffic on Sixth Street; all of said streets have heavy traffic all day long of trucks and cars.

The most adaptable land that might be acquired lies on the west side of Sixth Street, on the south side of Market Street and on the east side of Marshal Street; the lot having a front along the Mall of 118', and 173' on Market Street. In this lot there are 20,414 square feet of land area, but which would not provide parking space in addition to a building. To buy or condemn the property and demolish the existing buildings, the estimated cost would be $375,000.00.

The surrounding buildings in the vicinity of the Mall, which are very old, are occupied by cheap grade merchandise stores. The real estate at present is considered undesirable.

The Mall area is in a congested part of the City away from railroad terminals, Courts and other offices and business institutions with which the Commonwealth has transactions.

If it is decided that the Commonwealth shall erect a building in Philadelphia the most suitable location would seem to be on the Parkway. Located along this artery, or near its eastern end, are City Hall, the Pennsylvania Suburban Station, the Municipal Court, the Board of Education and other buildings containing offices with which the Commonwealth transacts business, as well as, most of the leading hotels.

The General Assembly already has made provision for the erection of a building in Philadelphia, as follows:

"The Act of July 1, 1937, P. L. 2687, as amended by the Act of May 22, 1945, P. L. 854, is in effect and under its terms the Secretary of Property and Supplies, with the approval of the Governor, has the power to Lease within the City of Pittsburgh or the County of Allegheny, or within the City of Philadelphia or the County of Philadelphia, a suitable office building in each of the respective Counties above mentioned, for the use of the agencies of the Commonwealth, for a period of not more than Thirty Years, provided that at the termination of the Thirty Year Term, the property so leased shall become the property of the Commonwealth and at any time during that period of the Lease, the Commonwealth is empowered to accept Title in fee simple to the property under the terms of Lease and provided further that no additional monies are paid in consideration for the said Deed."

Plans have been submitted for a proposed building in either of two locations, as follows:

Southwest Corner 17th and Parkway, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

Data has been submitted for a proposed building on this site. The lot area is 19,000 square feet.

The location is on the Parkway; it is immediately out of the central city congestion, but is still within one square of the Suburban Station of the Pennsylvania Railroad. It is within ten minutes walk of City Hall.

The owners will build a multi-storied structure under a Lease, term of which to be determined along with the cost per square foot.

19th and Parkway, Opposite Logan Circle, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

This plot of ground, 265' along the Parkway, with a depth of 288' extending southwardly along the easterly side of 19th Street to Cherry Street and having a front on said Cherry Street of 286' consisting in all of an area of about 80,000 square feet, on which the proposal is to erect a building and allow ample parking facilities for 150 cars, is to be ready for delivery in two years.

Rent to be paid therefor, to be at the rate of not over $1.60 per square foot per annum, and at the end of a term of thirty (30) years Title to be transferred to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

It is estimated that the cost of the completed building would be approximately $5,000,000.

The lessor will pay for the cost of the land, labor, material, permits, settlement charges, brokerage, architect's fees and all other charges due and payable in order to deliver to the said Lessee a completed building.

The said Lessee, upon delivery of the building, to assume all costs to operate the same. According to the 1950 report of the "Building Owners and Managers Association of the City of Philadelphia," the cost to operate such a building at present would be $1.67½ per square foot per annum. This would show a total rental cost of $3.27½ per square foot per annum.

At the present time there is being leased by the Commonwealth in the central part of the City, 136,566 square feet at an average overall rental of $2.21 plus per square foot, or approximately $301,940.25 rental per annum. This is exclusive of the space needed for use of the Supreme and Superior Courts of Pennsylvania, which should be included in a building because of the inadequacy of their present accommodations at City Hall.

Sincerely yours

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HOLLAND asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, At least two reasons may be ascribed to any piece of legislation which is designed, as is this one, to consolidate under one head several governmental functions. The one reason is "control"; a desire to place, in one functionary, power over an expanding domain. The other reason is one of economy, whereby overlapping of functions and duplication of efforts may be dovetailed into one unified activity, shorn of clumsy prerogatives, of handicapping protocol and of expensive complexities.

This piece of legislation is motivated by this second reason which I have just emphasized. If ever economy in government with no loss of benefits was needed, it is at this very moment. The body politic needs adequate clothing. This is an admitted fact, but it is high time we took the full dress suit off the body politic and clothed it instead in a substantial suit of working clothes, strong of fabric yet reasonable in price.

This legislation is designed to bring together under one department the State Employment Service, the State Unemployment Compensation function, the State Public Assistance program and the State Rehabilitation activity. Three of these four governmental activities are now under separate governmental entities, each with its own set of policies, its own functioning personnel and its own special quarters.

Through this measure it is proposed to bring all these closely related functions under one department—that department to be known as the Department of Employment Security.

This title fits the functions to be performed well. The entire concept is bound together in this name—"Employment Security." For example, a citizen is unemployed and goes to the Employment Service office to apply for work. Should there be no job immediately available, then an application for unemployment compensation may be filed, if the unemployed worker is eligible, in the same office as is now provided. But, should there be no jobs and should there be no unemployment compensation, then Public Assistance may be the next step. But where does he file his claim for Public Assistance? Probably somewhere on the other side of town or, worse yet, in the next community. Or suppose this unfortunate person should be suffering a physical handicap that may be corrected through rehabilitation. Where does he apply? Not in the office where he first filed his application for a job. This legislation would correct this condition. All four of these functions would be grouped in the one office.

This plan would do away with the existing game of shuttlecock which is played by the existing mixture of agencies, wherein the unfortunate applicant is batted from one office to the other to his utter confusion and often to his ultimate disadvantage as he seeks desperately for the answer to his personal problem.

The possibilities for economies under their plan are many, and they are obvious. The operating overhead as it exists today could be cut substantially; the expense of maintaining separate offices for the various functions could be materially reduced by consolidation.

The way we operate today, for example, is as though a family had suddenly been deprived of their senses with the result that the mother, the father and two young children were each occupying a separate house, with the cost of the entire nightmare being born by the taxpayer who is fast going broke.

The one who is footing the bill for our present confused situation (which this legislation is proposed to correct) is the taxpayer, and it is time his plight was given the consideration it deserves. The way the Employment Service, Public Assistance, Unemployment Compensation, and Rehabilitation are operating today is costing the taxpayers more than it should. I do not mean to criticize the existing operation of any one of these activities, nor do I propose to criticize them collectively, but I do mean to say that duplications, overlappings, conditions beyond their control of those currently responsible for their operation, are forcing up the bill for these services far beyond the realm of reason for the returns involved. The taxpayers simply cannot continue to pay the cost of this clumsy arrangement under which these functions operate today. This legislation will reduce cost without curtailing usefulness or without eliminating a single function which is now being performed.

I said that this is an economy measure. The truth of that statement is obvious. We talk a lot about economy and what we must do to save money. Here is a simple, basic plan, whereby, through rearrangement and regrouping of several governmental functions, sufficient economies can be realized to make the plan quite worthwhile. Anyone who is seriously interested in the plight of the taxpayer would do well to give this piece of legislation his thoughtful consideration.
